47 Meters Down

Cast: Claire Holt, Mandy Moore, Matthew Modine
Genre: Thriller
Director: Johannes Roberts
Status: Completed

Synopsis: Twenty-something sisters Kate and Lisa are gorgeous, fun-loving and ready for the holiday of a lifetime in Mexico. When the opportunity to go cage diving to view Great White sharks presents itself, thrill-seeking Kate jumps at the chance while Lisa takes some convincing. After some not so gentle persuading, Lisa finally agrees and the girls soon find themselves two hours off the coast of Huatulco and about to come face to face with nature's fiercest predator. But what should have been the trip to end all trips soon becomes a living nightmare when the shark cage breaks free from their boat, sinks and they find themselves trapped at the bottom of the ocean. With less than an hour of oxygen left in their tanks, they must somehow work out how to get back to the boat above them through 47 meters of shark-infested waters.

Synopsis: A 3D film for all the family. "We will tell Orwell's classic tale as a vibrant engaging story for 21st Century families. Just imagine Orwell writing today... seeing the entire story from the point of view of an adorable knee-high piglet...

A rite of passage for this once naïve, baby-face piglet Lucky, son of Napoleon, as he witnesses the rise and fall of a dream: a perfect existence without human beings. A modern commentary of the perils of corporate greed, but with all the innocence, joy and sensitivity of a fairy-tale.

Just great fun, anarchic, contemporary, quick-witted and very funny ... but also fearful, whereby jeopardy is in the unseen implied violence; raucous, thrilling with big set pieces; but also subtle – with incisive subversion and satire; heartbreakingly honest, accepting of sadness and emotionally ebullient". Synopsis: In a land of cats, a long time ago,,,,,

The felines of Kakamucho are about to have their litter boxes shaken when their new Samurai turns up and he's not quite what they expected - HE'S A DOG!

Hank, a scrappy, wide-eyed pooch on the run, scrambles ashore with dreams of becoming a Samurai like his kitty heroes. There's just one problem; he doesn't QUITE fit in. But he is the perfect pawn for a scheming warlord named Ika Chu, who is after Kakamucho; and needs the townscats out of his way. What better way to chase out a bunch of cats than a dog!

Hank rolls into Kakamucho large and in charge, but is quickly taken down a peg when confronted but a hornets' nest of furious townscats - he's no Samurai, he's a dog! His only champion is Emiko, a young kitten with her own dreams of becoming a Samurai. This is going to be a lot harder than Hank Expected.

Luckily friends and training turn up in unlikely places. Hank finds the town outcast, a catnip-addled former swordsman named Yojimbo, who gives him a crash course, literally in how to be a Samurai. With a little grit, determination, and his own canine style, Hank becomes a true Samurai and teaches his new companions a big lesson; it doesn't matter where you come from, but who you are inside.

Cats and dogs are living together. Action. Comedy. Hysteria

Market Office: 1C-E14
Home Office tel: +44 20 7193 1801

Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townsfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries.

Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Harborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town. _x0003_

Genre: Comedy
Director: Josef Baar
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: When Rosa, a lonely but gifted art expert, is hired to authenticate the origins of a 6,000-year-old bowl a surprising relationship develops. They can see into each other's pasts and, given its age, the Bowl has an extensive repertoire of stories of outlandish human behaviour through the years, which it recalls in witty, atmospheric style. Meanwhile, Rosa has taken in house-guest Nicki, a manipulative temptress with an ever-growing trail of scorned lovers. Nicki embarks on stealing and selling the contents of Rosa's flat while seducing and swindling her way through London. Rosa's hapless quest for romance sees her dates becoming increasingly disastrous, her frustration eventually leading her to kidnap the TV dating expert whose advice had only worsened her situation. All the time, Rosa is trying to keep the Bowl to herself, desperately avoiding Marius, the eccentric antiques collector who initially sought her valuation of the piece.

With a guardian angel returned from the dead running all over town keeping Nicki safe and out of trouble, Rosa somehow survives the legion of colourful characters and mayhem surrounding her. But will this quirky entourage – not least the watchful eye of the Bowl – make or break her search for love?

Gateway 6

Cast: Rhys Ifans, Ed Skrein, Sofia Boutella
Genre: Science-fiction
Director: Tanel Toom
Status: Pre-Production
Synopsis: Earth in the not too distant future...

Overwhelming tides and floods have swept the planet, obliterating all human civilisation barring two decimated continents. Billions die during the mass migration to higher land.

Between the continents, one lone station stands guard – Gateway 6.

Four soldiers are stationed in this remote military outpost, surrounded by an endless ocean thousands of miles from home. They are the last bastion, defending their homeland from an invasion by an enemy they have never seen, monitoring for signs of attack and prepared to sacrifice themselves by detonating their nuclear device should an enemy fleet appear.

But their tour of duty ended 3 months ago. The relief crew still hasn't shown up. Alone and uncertain as to what fate awaits them, the simmering tension amongst the crew only escalates when a mysterious boat drifts into range – is it the help they have been waiting so long for, or something far more sinister?

Ghost Stories

Cast: Andy Nyman, Martin Freeman, Alex Lawther, Paul Whitehouse
Genre: Thriller
Director: Jeremy Dyson
Status: Post-Production
Synopsis: Professor Phillip Goodman (Andy Nyman), psychologist and arch-sceptic, has his rationality tested to the hilt when he stumbles across a long-lost file containing details of three terrifying 'hauntings'. Shaken by what he reads, Goodman embarks on a mission to find rational explanations for these ghostly stories. As Goodman investigates, he meets three tormented people, each with a tale more frightening, uncanny and inexplicable than the last. Night-watchman Tony Matthews (Paul Whitehouse) had a horrifying encounter in an empty warehouse and it has haunted him for years. Teenager Simon Rifkind (Alex Lawther) took a late night drive that has rendered him unable to sleep. Mike Priddle (Martin Freeman), a brash banker, has had his worldview shaken to the core by unquiet spirits that apparently inhabit his otherwise perfect existence. As Goodman digs into their stories, his carefully maintained and rational world starts to dissolve around him. Is it a trick of the mind or are darker forces at work? Gradually Goodman is drawn towards the unearthing of a long-buried secret that will pull his life, and everything he thought he knew, apart.

God's Own Country

Cast: Ian Hart, Gemma Jones
Genre: Drama
Director: Francis Lee
Status: Completed
Synopsis: Spring, Yorkshire, England. Johnny Saxby, a 25-year-old sheep farmer, has sacrificed going away to college or getting a job in town to run the family farm for his ailing father, Martin (Ian Hart), and stoic grandmother Deirdre (Gemma Jones), numbing the daily frustration of his desolate life with binge drinking and casual sex. As lambing season approaches, Martin hires a Romanian migrant worker, Gheorghe, to assist the already exhausted Johnny. Johnny bitterly resents Gheorghe, stubbornly insisting he can cope on his own, but Gheorghe proves he not only understands this farming life, but more importantly, he understands Johnny.

You can smell the mud in this movie. Every gritty sensual detail springs from authenticity, especially the powerful emotional journey of its young leads played with fierce commitment by Josh O'Connor as Johnny and Alec Secareanu as Georghe. God's Own Country marks the discovery of a major new talent in writer/director Francis Lee. This one is not to be missed.

Hampstead

Cast: Diane Keaton, Brendan Gleeson
Genre: Social issues
Director: Joel Hopkins
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Hampstead Village, London. Famous for its beautiful and much-loved Heath – a piece of quiet countryside in a vast metropolis. Living on the edge of the Heath is American widow, Emily Walters (Diane Keaton), who can't quite focus on the things that need attention, like her lovely old apartment, her finances and even her son. Despite encouragement from her close friend Fiona, she doesn't want to admit that she's drifting through life without much thought to her future. One day while looking out across the Heath from her attic window, Emily spies a ramshackle hut, which appears to be inhabited by an unkempt man. She witnesses him being attacked by a group of professional thugs. Shocked, she calls the police and watches, through her binoculars, as help arrives. The next day she ventures into the woods in search of the man. Donald Horner (Brendan Gleeson) has lived quietly and harmoniously on the edge of the Heath for 17 years but now his lifestyle is under threat - his home is the target of property developers who've started using heavy-handed tactics to remove him. When Emily introduces herself, he is naturally suspicious and politely thanks her but rebuffs her attention. Despite his gruff exterior, there is something gentle and alluring about Donald and when Emily discovers that Fiona is leading a community initiative in support of the developers, she bravely steps up to take Donald's side in the escalating battle, determined to defend the emotional and physical livelihood of this quiet but unusual man - who has grown to trust her and who - despite his situation, just might be the man to sweep her off her feet.

Inspired by a true story, Hampstead is a charming and funny life-affirming tale about how love can be found in the most unexpected places and proves once and for all that age is no barrier to second chances.

The Happy Prince

Genre: Drama
Director: Rupert Everett
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: THE HAPPY PRINCE is about the last days in the life of Oscar Wilde – a celebrity, a genius, an icon, even a national treasure – now in the midst of the Public meltdown. We look at the excessive quadrangular love story he is trapped in. Everyone wants Oscar – Constance, Robbie and Bosie. The result is that freedom eludes him. The once hailed writer observes his own failure with ironic distance and regards the car crash of his life with detachment and humor. The film is a comedy with tragic undertones in the tradition of the best of English tragedies.

Cast: Roberto Duran, Sylvester Stallone, Mike Tyson, Larry Merchant, Marvin Hagler, Thomas Hearns, Manuel Noriega, Ricky Hatton
Genre: Documentary
Director: Mat Hodgson
Status: Production
Synopsis: A veteran of 119 professional bouts across four weight levels, Duran fought in an astonishing five decades. He was a world champion by the age of 21 and fought some of the greatest boxers of all time: Hagler, Sugar Ray Leonard and Hearns to name a few. Durán obliterated all comers. His style began to pack out venues as crowds were seduced by his raw, explosive and instinctive fighting style. He was a fighter, a brawler and a warrior, and the fans loved him. A one man wrecking ball, away from the ring he transcended sport and inspired his beloved Panama to rise toward independence from American control and a CIA funded dictator. I am Duran is the definitive story of this incredible man, his career and legacy, and how he became a hero, an icon, and an inspiration to successive generations.

Synopsis: Matty Burton is the middleweight boxing champion of the world. Now, coming towards the end of his career, he knows that he must make his money and get out of the game. His aim is to secure a home with his wife Emma, and a future for their baby daughter Mia. His opponent is the brash and controversial Nassar Ali. A big puncher that courts controversy with his outlandish statements. Nassar's intent is to rip the title from Matty, a task that Nassar feels is going to be easy. After a titanic battle, Matty returns home to Emma, but moments later collapses on the living room floor from a delayed reaction to a devastating punch. When Matty awakes from the coma, the real fight begins. Suffering from memory loss and with his personality altered, Matty must begin to piece his life back together as his world disintegrates. Journeyman is a powerful and beautiful story about loss and, ultimately, triumph. It's about our identity, and how in life we sometimes have to dig deep into our soul to discover who we really are.

Genre: Thriller
Director: Piotr Szkopiak
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: In post-war Bristol, neophyte journalist Stephen Underwood is keen to prove his worth in a society where everyone is taught to know his or her place and not to question authority. He works for a local newspaper and yearns to break a big story while his editor, Frank Hamilton, is happy to keep him reporting on nothing more controversial than local community events. However, when Stephen stumbles across the suicide of a Polish soldier from the local Displace Persons' camp, he disregards Hamilton's objections and follows his instincts. Stephen heads to the camp to question the commanding officer, his estranged brother, Captain John Underwood, but John is far from happy to see him and is reluctant to answer any questions. Stephen meets Colonel Janusz Pietrowski, formerly of the Polish Second Corps (under British command) and now a Liaison Officer for the resettlement of Polish troops. When Stephen mentions the suicide, Pietrowski explains that many Poles had lost all hope since their homeland was occupied by Soviet Russia and many fear for their lives but Stephen remains sceptical. Stephen is also intimately involved with Jeanette Mitchell, a Junior Commander in the Auxiliary Territorial Service, who works under his brother at the DP camp. She is trapped in a marriage of convenience with a homosexual military intelligence officer, Mason Mitchell. Both Stephen and Jeanette dream of escaping to London and starting a new life together and in the course of a clandestine meeting in a local public house, Stephen witnesses a confrontation between a new arrival at the camp, Michael Loboda, and a local farmer. During the argument Loboda inadvertently claims he is Russian and not Polish. Curious as to what a Russian is doing posing as a Polish refugee, Stephen questions Loboda. Loboda believes his life is in danger but will not say why and threatens to kill Stephen if he presses him further. Undaunted, Stephen steals a small metal cash-box from Loboda's belongings whilst he is asleep. Inside the box he finds a blood-stained diary belonging to a young Polish cadet but before Stephen can determine its significance, Loboda disappears from the camp in mysterious circumstances. Thus begins Stephen's journey into the unknown and his discovery that Loboda is in fact the last witness left in the West who could testify to the execution of Polish nationals by Stalin's secret police in 1940 and that the diary is conclusive proof of their guilt. He then becomes embroiled in a dangerous and multi-layered conspiracy to suppress the truth about the killings.

Synopsis: Having recently moved to the country with his wife Nancy and their two small children, the renowned 1920s author Robert Graves was struggling for cash and creative inspiration when he chanced upon aspiring writer Laura Riding in a university library. Bewitched by her free spirit and writing, he and his wife offered Riding a home in return for childcare.

This unlikely friendship soon developed into something more; a love triangle between the three of them, with Riding sharing her attention and affections with both Graves and Nancy. Frowned upon by their friends and family, their unconventional relationship nevertheless suited them and when Graves was offered a writing job in London, it was Riding that moved with him, leaving Nancy and the children behind.

Settling in to their life in London, Riding and Graves embraced the bohemian 1920s scene, throwing debauched parties at night and writing by day. It was at one of these parties that handsome Irish poet, Geoffrey Phibbs arrived, unbalancing Graves' relationship with both Riding and with his wife, almost pushing him to the brink of insanity.

An unflinching true story filled with passion, obsession, love and jealousy.

Synopsis: Fifteen-year-old Charley Thompson wants a home, food on the table and a high school he can attend for more than part of a year. But as the son of a single father working in warehouses across the Pacific Northwest, finding some stability is hard for Charley. Hoping for a new start they move to Portland where Charley takes a summer job working for a surly, washed up horse trainer at the local race track. When tragic events leave Charley homeless, his only comforts become his friendship with a failing racehorse named Lean on Pete and a photograph of his only known relative. In increasingly desperate circumstances, Charley will head east, hoping to find his aunt who had once lived a thousand miles away in Wyoming - but the journey will be a perilous one.

Maradona

Genre: Documentary
Director: Asif Kapadia
Status: Production

Synopsis: Having never won a major tournament, ailing football giant SSC Napoli had criminally underachieved. Their fanatical support was unequalled in both passion and size. None was more feared. But how they ached for success... On 5th July 1984, Diego Maradona arrived in Naples for a world-record fee and for seven years all hell broke loose. The world's most celebrated football genius and the most dysfunctional city in Europe were a perfect match for each other. Maradona was blessed on the field but cursed off it; the charismatic Argentine, quickly led Naples to their first-ever title. It was the stuff of dreams. But there was a price... Diego could do as he pleased whilst performing miracles on the pitch, but when the magic faded he became almost a prisoner of the city. The third film from the Academy Award and BAFTA-winning team behind Senna and Amy, the film will be constructed from over 500 hours of never-before-seen footage from Maradona's personal archive and in the style of Senna and Amy, will be a high-end and definitive feature documentary made with the full support of Maradona. In a city where the devil would have needed bodyguards, Maradona became bigger than God himself. This is the wild and unforgettable story of God-given talent, glory, despair and betrayal, of corruption and ultimately redemption.

Mum's List

Cast: Rafe Spall, Emilia Fox, Elaine Cassidy
Genre: True Story
Director: Niall Johnson
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A beautiful and heart-breaking movie based on the international best-selling book, MUM’S LIST tells the true story of Singe Greene, who had to deal with the tragic loss to cancer of Kate, his wife and mother of his two children. St. John Greene (‘Singe’) never planned to write a book, let alone one like MUM’S LIST. An adventure-loving outdoor sports trainer, he met his future wife, Kate, when they were both teenagers, and they’d been together for more than twenty blissful years. Their perfect world crumbled when their first son Reef, was given a terrifying cancer diagnosis at just eighteen months old. With only a 6% chance of survival, doctors gave him mere days to live. Miraculously, Reef pulled through (and remains healthy to this day). But then, just as things were getting back to normal, Kate was diagnosed with an incurable breast cancer. For Kate, nothing was as important as the happiness and well-being of her family. With Singe she spent hours talking and crying about her hopes and dreams for her family—ones she would now never see realised. Over her last few days she created ‘Mum’s List’, writing her thoughts and wishes and memories down, to help the man she loved create the best life possible for their sons after she was gone. Written on scraps of paper or sent as text messages, day and night, the list captured her passionate nature, her free spirit, her sense of humour, and her undying love for her family. Some entries were instructions...some, observations...others, memories to be kept alive forever. All of them, a memorial to the woman being forced to say goodbye.

Synopsis: Turn of the century London, Sherlock Hound, the greatest dog detective the world has ever seen, is in a slump. There are no new cases and the 'dreaded' Christmas holidays are about to begin. Suddenly, a young puppy, Calvin, appears at his door pleading for his help. He's seen something suspicious flying over London. As Sherlock and Watson contemplate the validity of Calvin's story, a flurry of henchmen pile into 221b Barker Street, followed by her Majesty the Queen. They too are deeply concerned about an 'Unidentified Flying Object', but luckily Calvin found a clue on the way to Barker Street. As Sherlock runs outside to sniff around, a sleigh from the North Pole arrives along with the Head Elf; Santa is missing with only hours until Christmas! Sherlock, Watson and Calvin take Santa's back-up sleigh to the North Pole to look for clues. They find a letter from Santa Claus claiming he's tired of the cold and a map that leads straight to the crown jewels. Could Santa really be planning to steal the crown jewels? Or is it the masterplan of Sherlock's arch nemesis, Moriarty? Sherlock Hound, his trusty side-kick Watson and Calvin, must race against time to foil Moriarty's evil plan, find Santa Claus and save Christmas for all.

We meet them as they travel through the inhospitable desert on their way to execute the raid. Joe, the older of the two, carries a brutal and unrepentant view of the world, defined by fear and adoration of their invisible but omnipresent boss. Paddy is younger and recklessly ambitious, hungry to progress through the ranks of the crew. Neither man trusts the other as they tell half truths and stories of previous victories in a battle to determine who controls this increasingly volatile situation.

As the raid progresses, deeply hidden truths about both men's pasts are revealed, fracturing their already fragile relationship and forcing them to face up to who they really are in order to survive its violent and shocking conclusion.

Synopsis: With over 200 million album sales worldwide, and remaining the only artist to chart seven consecutive US No. 1's, Whitney Houston was the voice of a generation. Coming from an esteemed lineage of singers, Whitney was destined to be plucked from her gospel-singing roots to rule the world stage. She inspired a generation of singers from Mariah Carey to Beyoncé and her unforgettable performance of The Star-Spangled Banner unlocked an anthem that had for so long been dismissed by many black artists. But all these achievements have become a footnote to a story of addiction and self-destruction. With salacious stories filling the columns of tabloid papers and magazines, Whitney had the voice of an angel onstage, but was being torn apart by her demons offstage. Directed by Academy Award-winning filmmaker Kevin Macdonald (Marley, Touching the Void) and from two-time Academy Award-winning producer Simon Chinn (Man on Wire, Searching for Sugar Man), the film will for the first time, give audiences an unprecedented and unique look into Whitney's life. This will be an unflinching and honest portrait of a rare talent told by those closest to her. Made with full access to her family and collaborators, the film will showcase exclusive audio and never-before-seen video archive from her time as a recording artist and performer. By casting her story and her work in a new and revealing light, WHITNEY HOUSTON will reassess the life and legacy of one of music's biggest stars.

Synopsis: A 3D film for all the family. "We will tell Orwell's classic tale as a vibrant engaging story for 21st Century families. Just imagine Orwell writing today... seeing the entire story from the point of view of an adorable knee-high piglet...

A rite of passage for this once naïve, baby-face piglet Lucky, son of Napoleon, as he witnesses the rise and fall of a dream: a perfect existence without human beings. A modern commentary of the perils of corporate greed, but with all the innocence, joy and sensitivity of a fairy-tale.

Just great fun, anarchic, contemporary, quick-witted and very funny ... but also fearful, whereby jeopardy is in the unseen implied violence; raucous, thrilling with big set pieces; but also subtle – with incisive subversion and satire; heartbreakingly honest, accepting of sadness and emotionally ebullient". The felines of Kakamucho are about to have their litter boxes shaken when their new Samurai turns up and he's not quite what they expected - HE'S A DOG!

Hank, a scrappy, wide-eyed pooch on the run, scrambles ashore with dreams of becoming a Samurai like his kitty heroes. There's just one problem; he doesn't QUITE fit in. But he is the perfect pawn for a scheming warlord named Ika Chu, who is after Kakamucho; and needs the townscats out of his way. What better way to chase out a bunch of cats than a dog!

Hank rolls into Kakamucho large and in charge, but is quickly taken down a peg when confronted but a hornets' nest of furious townscats - he's no Samurai, he's a dog! His only champion is Emiko, a young kitten with her own dreams of becoming a Samurai. This is going to be a lot harder than Hank Expected.

Luckily friends and training turn up in unlikely places. Hank finds the town outcast, a catnip-addled former swordsman named Yojimbo, who gives him a crash course, literally in how to be a Samurai. With a little grit, determination, and his own canine style, Hank becomes a true Samurai and teaches his new companions a big lesson; it doesn't matter where you come from, but who you are inside.

Cats and dogs are living together. Action. Comedy. Hysteria

Synopsis: When, Birdie, fragile teenager with an overactive imagination is placed in an isolated Midwestern convent on the brink of closure, her strange and in some cases grotesque obsessions begin to consume her attention. Outside life beckons when she meets Julia, the confident, spirited maintenance girl, inspiring a growing infatuation. But privately, Birdie can't turn away from her fascination with the gory and whimsical hallucinations that plague her. Birdie sets off on her spiritual quest to discover if the source of her visions is something saintly or a dark heresy. The convent itself holds ghosts of nuns who've met untimely deaths. Are they calling Birdie to the same fate?

Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townsfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries.

Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Harborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town. _x0003_

Synopsis: Breathe...

From twice Academy Award nominated writer William Nicholson (Everest, Unbroken, Les Misérables and Gladiator), Breathe is an inspirational true story of love without limits.

Handsome, adventurous and brilliant, Robin (Andrew Garfield), has his whole life ahead of him when he is paralysed by Polio. Against all advice, Robin's beautiful wife Diana (Claire Foy) brings him home; where her devotion, intimacy and witty determination transcends his disability and sets him free. Together they refuse to be imprisoned by his suffering; transforming the lives of others with their humour, courage and lust for life.

Breathe is a heart-warming and highly emotional celebration of bravery and human possibility; where deep friendship is rooted in honesty and seeing the funny side of life.

A love story about living every breath as though it's your last.

Dateless

Genre: Comedy
Director: Josef Baar
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: When Rosa, a lonely but gifted art expert, is hired to authenticate the origins of a 6,000-year-old bowl a surprising relationship develops. They can see into each other's pasts and, given its age, the Bowl has an extensive repertoire of stories of outlandish human behaviour through the years, which it recalls in witty, atmospheric style. Meanwhile, Rosa has taken in house-guest Nicki, a manipulative temptress with an ever-growing trail of scorned lovers. Nicki embarks on stealing and selling the contents of Rosa's flat while seducing and swindling her way through London. Rosa's hapless quest for romance sees her dates becoming increasingly disastrous, her frustration eventually leading her to kidnap the TV dating expert whose advice had only worsened her situation. All the time, Rosa is trying to keep the Bowl to herself, desperately avoiding Marius, the eccentric antiques collector who initially sought her valuation of the piece.

With a guardian angel returned from the dead running all over town keeping Nicki safe and out of trouble, Rosa somehow survives the legion of colourful characters and mayhem surrounding her. But will this quirky entourage – not least the watchful eye of the Bowl – make or break her search for love?

Synopsis: Earth in the not too distant future...

Overwhelming tides and floods have swept the planet, obliterating all human civilisation barring two decimated continents. Billions die during the mass migration to higher land.

Between the continents, one lone station stands guard – Gateway 6.

Four soldiers are stationed in this remote military outpost, surrounded by an endless ocean thousands of miles from home. They are the last bastion, defending their homeland from an invasion by an enemy they have never seen, monitoring for signs of attack and prepared to sacrifice themselves by detonating their nuclear device should an enemy fleet appear.

But their tour of duty ended 3 months ago. The relief crew still hasn't shown up. Alone and uncertain as to what fate awaits them, the simmering tension amongst the crew only escalates when a mysterious boat drifts into range – is it the help they have been waiting so long for, or something far more sinister?

Ghost Stories

Cast: Andy Nyman, Martin Freeman, Alex Lawther, Paul Whitehouse
Genre: Thriller
Director: Jeremy Dyson
Status: Post-Production
Synopsis: Professor Phillip Goodman (Andy Nyman), psychologist and arch-sceptic, has his rationality tested to the hilt when he stumbles across a long-lost file containing details of three terrifying 'hauntings'. Shaken by what he reads, Goodman embarks on a mission to find rational explanations for these ghostly stories. As Goodman investigates, he meets three tormented people, each with a tale more frightening, uncanny and inexplicable than the last. Night-watchman Tony Matthews (Paul Whitehouse) had a horrifying encounter in an empty warehouse and it has haunted him for years. Teenager Simon Rifkind (Alex Lawther) took a late night drive that has rendered him unable to sleep. Mike Priddle (Martin Freeman), a brash banker, has had his worldview shaken to the core by unquiet spirits that apparently inhabit his otherwise perfect existence. As Goodman digs into their stories, his carefully maintained and rational world starts to dissolve around him. Is it a trick of the mind or are darker forces at work? Gradually Goodman is drawn towards the unearthing of a long-buried secret that will pull his life, and everything he thought he knew, apart.

God's Own Country

Cast: Ian Hart, Gemma Jones
Genre: Drama
Director: Francis Lee
Status: Completed
Synopsis: Spring, Yorkshire, England. Johnny Saxby, a 25-year-old sheep farmer, has sacrificed going away to college or getting a job in town to run the family farm for his ailing father, Martin (Ian Hart), and stoic grandmother Deirdre (Gemma Jones), numbing the daily frustration of his desolate life with binge drinking and casual sex. As lambing season approaches, Martin hires a Romanian migrant worker, Gheorghe, to assist the already exhausted Johnny. Johnny bitterly resents Gheorghe, stubbornly insisting he can cope on his own, but Gheorghe proves he not only understands this farming life, but more importantly, he understands Johnny.

You can smell the mud in this movie. Every gritty sensual detail springs from authenticity, especially the powerful emotional journey of its young leads played with fierce commitment by Josh O'Connor as Johnny and Alec Secareanu as Georghe. God's Own Country marks the discovery of a major new talent in writer/director Francis Lee. This one is not to be missed.

Hampstead

Cast: Diane Keaton, Brendan Gleeson
Genre: Social issues
Director: Joel Hopkins
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Hampstead Village, London. Famous for its beautiful and much-loved Heath – a piece of quiet countryside in a vast metropolis. Living on the edge of the Heath is American widow, Emily Walters (Diane Keaton), who can't quite focus on the things that need attention, like her lovely old apartment, her finances and even her son. Despite encouragement from her close friend Fiona, she doesn't want to admit that she's drifting through life without much thought to her future. One day while looking out across the Heath from her attic window, Emily spies a ramshackle hut, which appears to be inhabited by an unkempt man. She witnesses him being attacked by a group of professional thugs. Shocked, she calls the police and watches, through her binoculars, as help arrives. The next day she ventures into the woods in search of the man. Donald Horner (Brendan Gleeson) has lived quietly and harmoniously on the edge of the Heath for 17 years but now his lifestyle is under threat - his home is the target of property developers who've started using heavy-handed tactics to remove him. When Emily introduces herself, he is naturally suspicious and politely thanks her but rebuffs her attention. Despite his gruff exterior, there is something gentle and alluring about Donald and when Emily discovers that Fiona is leading a community initiative in support of the developers, she bravely steps up to take Donald's side in the escalating battle, determined to defend the emotional and physical livelihood of this quiet but unusual man - who has grown to trust her and who - despite his situation, just might be the man to sweep her off her feet.

Inspired by a true story, Hampstead is a charming and funny life-affirming tale about how love can be found in the most unexpected places and proves once and for all that age is no barrier to second chances.

The Happy Prince

Genre: Drama
Director: Rupert Everett
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: THE HAPPY PRINCE is about the last days in the life of Oscar Wilde – a celebrity, a genius, an icon, even a national treasure – now in the midst of the Public meltdown. We look at the excessive quadrangular love story he is trapped in. Everyone wants Oscar – Constance, Robbie and Bosie. The result is that freedom eludes him. The once hailed writer observes his own failure with ironic distance and regards the car crash of his life with detachment and humor. The film is a comedy with tragic undertones in the tradition of the best of English tragedies.

Genre: Drama
Director: Claire Denis
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: Deep space. Beyond our solar system. Monte and his infant daughter Willow live together aboard a spacecraft, in complete isolation. A solitary man, whose strict self-discipline is a protection against desire – his own and that of others - Monte fathered the girl against his will. His sperm was used to inseminate Boyse, the young woman who gave birth to her. They were members of a crew of prisoners: space convicts, death row inmates. Guinea pigs sent on a mission to the black hole closest to Earth. Now only Monte and Willow remain. And Monte is changed. Through his daughter, for the first time, he experiences the birth of an all-powerful love. Willow grows, becoming a young girl, then a young woman. Together, alone, father and daughter approach their destination – the black hole in which all time and space cease to exist.

Synopsis: John Cameron Mitchell, director of the acclaimed films Hedwig and the Angry Inch and Shortbus takes us to an exotic and unusual world: suburban London in the late 70s. Under the spell of the Sex Pistols, every teenager in the country wants to be a punk, including our hopeless hero Enn. Hearing the local punk Queen Boadicea is throwing a party, Enn crashes the fun and discovers every horny boy's dream; gorgeous foreign exchange students. When he meets the enigmatic Zan, it's lust at first sight. But these girls have come from a lot further away than America. They are, in fact, aliens from another galaxy, sent to Earth to prepare for a mysterious rite of passage. When the dark secret behind the rite is revealed, our galaxy-crossed lover Enn must turn to Boadicea and her punk followers for help in order to save the alien he loves from certain death.
The punks take on the aliens on the streets of London, and neither Enn nor Zan's universe will ever be the same again.

Genre: Documentary sales@kaleidoscopefilmdistribution.com
Director: Mat Hodgson Market Office: 1C-F24 UK Film Centre
Status: Production Home Office tel: +44 20 3397 4410
Synopsis: A veteran of 119 professional bouts across four weight levels, Duran fought in an astonishing five decades. He was a world champion by the age of 21 and fought some of the greatest boxers of all time: Hagler, Sugar Ray Leonard and Hearn to name a few. Durán obliterated all comers. His style began to pack out venues as crowds were seduced by his raw, explosive and instinctive fighting style. He was a fighter, a brawler and a warrior, and the fans loved him. A one man wrecking ball, away from the ring he transcended sport and inspired his beloved Panama to rise toward independence from American control and a CIA funded dictator. I am Duran is the definitive story of this incredible man, his career and legacy, and how he became a hero, an icon, and an inspiration to successive generations.

Synopsis: Matty Burton is the middleweight boxing champion of the world. Now, coming towards the end of his career, he knows that he must make his money and get out of the game. His aim is to secure a home with his wife Emma, and a future for their baby daughter Mia. His opponent is the brash and controversial Nassar Ali. A big puncher that courts controversy with his outlandish statements. Nassar's intent is to rip the title from Matty, a task that Nassar feels is going to be easy. After a titanic battle, Matty returns home to Emma, but moments later collapses on the living room floor from a delayed reaction to a devastating punch. When Matty awakes from the coma, the real fight begins. Suffering from memory loss and with his personality altered, Matty must begin to piece his life back together as his world disintegrates. Journeyman is a powerful and beautiful story about loss and, ultimately, triumph. It's about our identity, and how in life we sometimes have to dig deep into our soul to discover who we really are.

Genre: Thriller
Director: Piotr Szkopiak
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: In post-war Bristol, neophyte journalist Stephen Underwood is keen to prove his worth in a society where everyone is taught to know his or her place and not to question authority. He works for a local newspaper and yearns to break a big story while his editor, Frank Hamilton, is happy to keep him reporting on nothing more controversial than local community events. However, when Stephen stumbles across the suicide of a Polish soldier from the local Displace Persons' camp, he disregards Hamilton's objections and follows his instincts. Stephen heads to the camp to question the commanding officer, his estranged brother, Captain John Underwood, but John is far from happy to see him and is reluctant to answer any questions. Stephen meets Colonel Janusz Pietrowski, formerly of the Polish Second Corps (under British command) and now a Liaison Officer for the resettlement of Polish troops. When Stephen mentions the suicide, Pietrowski explains that many Poles had lost all hope since their homeland was occupied by Soviet Russia and many fear for their lives but Stephen remains sceptical. Stephen is also intimately involved with Jeanette Mitchell, a Junior Commander in the Auxiliary Territorial Service, who works under his brother at the DP camp. She is trapped in a marriage of convenience with a homosexual military intelligence officer, Mason Mitchell. Both Stephen and Jeanette dream of escaping to London and starting a new life together and in the course of a clandestine meeting in a local public house, Stephen witnesses a confrontation between a new arrival at the camp, Michael Loboda, and a local farmer. During the argument Loboda inadvertently claims he is Russian and not Polish. Curious as to what a Russian is doing posing as a Polish refugee, Stephen questions Loboda. Loboda believes his life is in danger but will not say why and threatens to kill Stephen if he presses him further. Undaunted, Stephen steals a small metal cash-box from Loboda's belongings whilst he is asleep. Inside the box he finds a blood-stained diary belonging to a young Polish cadet but before Stephen can determine its significance, Loboda disappears from the camp in mysterious circumstances. Thus begins Stephen's journey into the unknown and his discovery that Loboda is in fact the last witness left in the West who could testify to the execution of Polish nationals by Stalin's secret police in 1940 and that the diary is conclusive proof of their guilt. He then becomes embroiled in a dangerous and multi-layered conspiracy to suppress the truth about the killings.

Synopsis: Having recently moved to the country with his wife Nancy and their two small children, they renowned 1920s author Robert Graves was struggling for cash and creative inspiration when he chanced upon aspiring writer Laura Riding in a university library. Bewitched by her free spirit and writing, he and his wife offered Riding a home in return for childcare.

This unlikely friendship soon developed into something more; a love triangle between the three of them, with Riding sharing her attention and affections with both Graves and Nancy. Frowned upon by their friends and family, their unconventional relationship nevertheless suited them and when Graves was offered a writing job in London, it was Riding that moved with him, leaving Nancy and the children behind.

Settling in to their life in London, Riding and Graves embraced the bohemian 1920s scene, throwing debauched parties at night and writing by day. It was at one of these parties that handsome Irish poet, Geoffrey Phibbs arrived, unbalancing Graves' relationship with both Riding and with his wife, almost pushing him to the brink of insanity.

An unflinching true story filled with passion, obsession, love and jealousy.

Maradona

Genre: Documentary
Director: Asif Kapadia
Status: Production

Synopsis: Having never won a major tournament, ailing football giant SSC Napoli had criminally underachieved. Their fanatical support was unequalled in both passion and size. None was more feared. But how they ached for success... On 5th July 1984, Diego Maradona arrived in Naples for a world-record fee and for seven years all hell broke loose. The world's most celebrated football genius and the most dysfunctional city in Europe were a perfect match for each other. Maradona was blessed on the field but cursed off it; the charismatic Argentine, quickly led Naples to their first-ever title. It was the stuff of dreams. But there was a price... Diego could do as he pleased whilst performing miracles on the pitch, but when the magic faded he became almost a prisoner of the city. The third film from the Academy Award and BAFTA-winning team behind Senna and Amy, the film will be constructed from over 500 hours of never-before-seen footage from Maradona's personal archive and in the style of Senna and Amy, will be a high-end and definitive feature documentary made with the full support of Maradona. In a city where the devil would have needed bodyguards, Maradona became bigger than God himself. This is the wild and unforgettable story of God-given talent, glory, despair and betrayal, of corruption and ultimately redemption.

The Marker

Cast: Frederick Schmidt
Genre: Thriller
Director: Justin Edgar
Status: Completed

Synopsis: The Marker is a British redemption thriller following underworld criminal Marley as he struggles to overcome his feelings of grief and guilt after killing a young mother. Marley is asked to identify the body of his estranged junkie mother. Later, in a fragile emotional state, he encounters a Romanian woman called Ana and her 9 year old daughter Cristina. During a confrontation over an unpaid debt he accidentally kills Ana. Marley goes to jail for manslaughter but soon realises that Ana has returned as a manifestation of his guilt. Eventually they forge an uneasy truce on the understanding that he will take care of Cristina upon his release. By the time Marley is released, Cristina is a teenager. He discovers that she has been absorbed into a dark world of corruption and people trafficking. He must use his criminal skills and knowledge of the brutal underworld to track her down. This is a redemption story of the deepest, darkest noir in the territory of UN PROPHETE or BIUTIFUL with some breathtaking twists and action scenes.

Mum's List

Cast: Rafe Spall, Emilia Fox, Elaine Cassidy
Genre: True Story
Director: Niall Johnson
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A beautiful and heart-breaking movie based on the international best-selling book, MUM’S LIST tells the true story of Singe Greene, who had to deal with the tragic loss to cancer of Kate, his wife and mother of his two children. St. John Greene (‘Singe’) never planned to write a book, let alone one like MUM’S LIST. An adventure-loving outdoor sports trainer, he met his future wife, Kate, when they were both teenagers, and they’d been together for more than twenty blissful years. Their perfect world crumbled when their first son Reef, was given a terrifying cancer diagnosis at just eighteen months old. With only a 6% chance of survival, doctors gave him mere days to live. Miraculously, Reef pulled through (and remains healthy to this day). But then, just as things were getting back to normal, Kate was diagnosed with an incurable breast cancer. For Kate, nothing was as important as the happiness and well-being of her family. With Singe she spent hours talking and crying about her hopes and dreams for her family—ones she would now never see realised. Over her last few days she created ‘Mum’s List’, writing her thoughts and wishes and memories down, to help the man she loved create the best life possible for their sons after she was gone. Written on scraps of paper or sent as text messages, day and night, the list captured her passionate nature, her free spirit, her sense of humour, and her undying love for her family. Some entries were instructions...some, observations...others, memories to be kept alive forever. All of them, a memorial to the woman being forced to say goodbye.

Director: Alice Lowe
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A pitch black, wryly British comedy from the mind of Alice Lowe (SIGHTSEERS, HOT FUZZ, PADDINGTON), PREVENGE follows Ruth, a pregnant woman on a killing spree that's as funny as it is vicious. It's her misanthropic unborn baby dictating Ruth's actions, holding society responsible for the absence of a father. The child speaks to Ruth from the womb, coaching her to lure and ultimately kill her unsuspecting victims. Struggling with her conscience, loneliness, and a strange strain of prepartum madness, Ruth must ultimately choose between redemption and destruction at the moment of motherhood. PREVENGE marks the directorial debut from Lowe, who is a true triple threat, writing, directing, and acting in the film during her own real-life pregnancy.

There are no new cases and the 'dreaded' Christmas holidays are about to begin. Suddenly, a young puppy, Calvin, appears at his door pleading for his help. He's seen something suspicious flying over London. As Sherlock and Watson contemplate the validity of Calvin's story, a flurry of henchmen pile into 221b Barker Street, followed by her Majesty the Queen. They too are deeply concerned about an 'Unidentified Flying Object', but luckily Calvin found a clue on the way to Barker Street. As Sherlock runs outside to sniff around, a sleigh from the North Pole arrives along with the Head Elf; Santa is missing with only hours until Christmas! Sherlock, Watson and Calvin take Santa's back-up sleigh to the North Pole to look for clues. They find a letter from Santa Claus claiming he's tired of the cold and a map that leads straight to the crown jewels. Could Santa really be planning to steal the crown jewels? Or is it the masterplan of Sherlock's arch nemesis, Moriarty? Sherlock Hound, his trusty side-kick Watson and Calvin, must race against time to foil Moriarty's evil plan, find Santa Claus and save Christmas for all.

Synopsis: With over 200 million album sales worldwide, and remaining the only artist to chart seven consecutive US No. 1's, Whitney Houston was the voice of a generation. Coming from an esteemed lineage of singers, Whitney was destined to be plucked from her gospel-singing roots to rule the world stage. She inspired a generation of singers from Mariah Carey to Beyoncé and her unforgettable performance of The Star-Spangled Banner unlocked an anthem that had for so long been dismissed by many black artists. But all these achievements have become a footnote to a story of addiction and self-destruction. With salacious stories filling the columns of tabloid papers and magazines, Whitney had the voice of an angel onstage, but was being torn apart by her demons offstage. Directed by Academy Award-winning filmmaker Kevin Macdonald (Marley, Touching the Void) and from two-time Academy Award-winning producer Simon Chinn (Man on Wire, Searching for Sugar Man), the film will for the first time, give audiences an unprecedented and unique look into Whitney's life. This will be an unflinching and honest portrait of a rare talent told by those closest to her. Made with full access to her family and collaborators, the film will showcase exclusive audio and never-before-seen video archive from her time as a recording artist and performer. By casting her story and her work in a new and revealing light, WHITNEY HOUSTON will reassess the life and legacy of one of music's biggest stars.

Synopsis: A 3D film for all the family. "We will tell Orwell's classic tale as a vibrant engaging story for 21st Century families. Just imagine Orwell writing today... seeing the entire story from the point of view of an adorable knee-high piglet...

A rite of passage for this once naïve, baby-face piglet Lucky, son of Napoleon, as he witnesses the rise and fall of a dream: a perfect existence without human beings. A modern commentary of the perils of corporate greed, but with all the innocence, joy and sensitivity of a fairy-tale.

Just great fun, anarchic, contemporary, quick-witted and very funny ... but also fearful, whereby jeopardy is in the unseen implied violence; raucous, thrilling with big set pieces; but also subtle – with incisive subversion and satire; heartbreakingly honest, accepting of sadness and emotionally ebullient". Synopsis: In a land of cats, a long time ago,,,,,

The felines of Kakamucho are about to have their litter boxes shaken when their new Samurai turns up and he's not quite what they expected - HE'S A DOG!

Hank, a scrappy, wide-eyed pooch on the run, scrambles ashore with dreams of becoming a Samurai like his kitty heroes. There's just one problem; he doesn't QUITE fit in. But he is the perfect pawn for a scheming warlord named Ika Chu, who is after Kakamucho; and needs the townscats out of his way. What better way to chase out a bunch of cats than a dog!

Hank rolls into Kakamucho large and in charge, but is quickly taken down a peg when confronted but a hornets' nest of furious townscats - he's no Samurai, he's a dog! His only champion is Emiko, a young kitten with her own dreams of becoming a Samurai. This is going to be a lot harder than Hank Expected.

Luckily friends and training turn up in unlikely places. Hank finds the town outcast, a catnip-addled former swordsman named Yojimbo, who gives him a crash course, literally in how to be a Samurai. With a little grit, determination, and his own canine style, Hank becomes a true Samurai and teaches his new companions a big lesson; it doesn't matter where you come from, but who you are inside.

Cats and dogs are living together. Action. Comedy. Hysteria

Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townsfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries.

Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Harborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town. _x0003_

Genre: Comedy
Director: Josef Baar
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: When Rosa, a lonely but gifted art expert, is hired to authenticate the origins of a 6,000-year-old bowl a surprising relationship develops. They can see into each other's pasts and, given its age, the Bowl has an extensive repertoire of stories of outlandish human behaviour through the years, which it recalls in witty, atmospheric style. Meanwhile, Rosa has taken in house-guest Nicki, a manipulative temptress with an ever-growing trail of scorned lovers. Nicki embarks on stealing and selling the contents of Rosa's flat while seducing and swindling her way through London. Rosa's hapless quest for romance sees her dates becoming increasingly disastrous, her frustration eventually leading her to kidnap the TV dating expert whose advice had only worsened her situation. All the time, Rosa is trying to keep the Bowl to herself, desperately avoiding Marius, the eccentric antiques collector who initially sought her valuation of the piece.

With a guardian angel returned from the dead running all over town keeping Nicki safe and out of trouble, Rosa somehow survives the legion of colourful characters and mayhem surrounding her. But will this quirky entourage – not least the watchful eye of the Bowl – make or break her search for love?

The Death Of Stalin

Cast: Steve Buscemi, Michael Palin, Jeffrey Tambor, Rupert Friend, Olga Kurylenko, Simon Russell Beale, Jason Isaacs, Andrea Riseborough, Paddy Considine
Genre: Black comedy
Director: Armando Iannucci
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: On the night of March the 2nd 1953, a man is dying. A terrible stroke is wracking his entire body. He is drooling. He is pissing himself. He is about to kick the bucket and if you play your cards right, his job is yours to take.

The man is Joseph Stalin - dictator, tyrant, butcher, as well as Secretary General of the USSR.

THE DEATH OF STALIN is a satire about the days before the funerals of the Nation's Father. Days that shine a sardonic light on all the madness, depravity and inhumanity of totalitarianism.

Days that will see the men surrounding him fight to inherit his supreme power. And it's all based on true events.

Genre: Science-fiction
Director: Tanel Toom
Status: Pre-Production
Synopsis: Earth in the not too distant future...

Overwhelming tides and floods have swept the planet, obliterating all human civilisation barring two decimated continents. Billions die during the mass migration to higher land.

Between the continents, one lone station stands guard – Gateway 6.

Four soldiers are stationed in this remote military outpost, surrounded by an endless ocean thousands of miles from home. They are the last bastion, defending their homeland from an invasion by an enemy they have never seen, monitoring for signs of attack and prepared to sacrifice themselves by detonating their nuclear device should an enemy fleet appear.

But their tour of duty ended 3 months ago. The relief crew still hasn't shown up. Alone and uncertain as to what fate awaits them, the simmering tension amongst the crew only escalates when a mysterious boat drifts into range – is it the help they have been waiting so long for, or something far more sinister?

Ghost Stories

Cast: Andy Nyman, Martin Freeman, Alex Lawther, Paul Whitehouse
Genre: Thriller
Director: Jeremy Dyson
Status: Post-Production
Synopsis: Professor Phillip Goodman (Andy Nyman), psychologist and arch-sceptic, has his rationality tested to the hilt when he stumbles across a long-lost file containing details of three terrifying 'hauntings'. Shaken by what he reads, Goodman embarks on a mission to find rational explanations for these ghostly stories. As Goodman investigates, he meets three tormented people, each with a tale more frightening, uncanny and inexplicable than the last. Night-watchman Tony Matthews (Paul Whitehouse) had a horrifying encounter in an empty warehouse and it has haunted him for years. Teenager Simon Rifkind (Alex Lawther) took a late night drive that has rendered him unable to sleep. Mike Priddle (Martin Freeman), a brash banker, has had his worldview shaken to the core by unquiet spirits that apparently inhabit his otherwise perfect existence. As Goodman digs into their stories, his carefully maintained and rational world starts to dissolve around him. Is it a trick of the mind or are darker forces at work? Gradually Goodman is drawn towards the unearthing of a long-buried secret that will pull his life, and everything he thought he knew, apart.

God's Own Country

Cast: Ian Hart, Gemma Jones
Genre: Drama
Director: Francis Lee
Status: Completed
Synopsis: Spring, Yorkshire, England. Johnny Saxby, a 25-year-old sheep farmer, has sacrificed going away to college or getting a job in town to run the family farm for his ailing father, Martin (Ian Hart), and stoic grandmother Deirdre (Gemma Jones), numbing the daily frustration of his desolate life with binge drinking and casual sex. As lambing season approaches, Martin hires a Romanian migrant worker, Gheorghe, to assist the already exhausted Johnny. Johnny bitterly resents Gheorghe, stubbornly insisting he can cope on his own, but Gheorghe proves he not only understands this farming life, but more importantly, he understands Johnny.

You can smell the mud in this movie. Every gritty sensual detail springs from authenticity, especially the powerful emotional journey of its young leads played with fierce commitment by Josh O'Connor as Johnny and Alec Secareanu as Georghe. God's Own Country marks the discovery of a major new talent in writer/director Francis Lee. This one is not to be missed.

Hampstead

Cast: Diane Keaton, Brendan Gleeson
Genre: Social issues
Director: Joel Hopkins
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Hampstead Village, London. Famous for its beautiful and much-loved Heath – a piece of quiet countryside in a vast metropolis. Living on the edge of the Heath is American widow, Emily Walters (Diane Keaton), who can't quite focus on the things that need attention, like her lovely old apartment, her finances and even her son. Despite encouragement from her close friend Fiona, she doesn't want to admit that she's drifting through life without much thought to her future. One day while looking out across the Heath from her attic window, Emily spies a ramshackle hut, which appears to be inhabited by an unkempt man. She witnesses him being attacked by a group of professional thugs. Shocked, she calls the police and watches, through her binoculars, as help arrives. The next day she ventures into the woods in search of the man. Donald Horner (Brendan Gleeson) has lived quietly and harmoniously on the edge of the Heath for 17 years but now his lifestyle is under threat - his home is the target of property developers who've started using heavy-handed tactics to remove him. When Emily introduces herself, he is naturally suspicious and politely thanks her but rebuffs her attention. Despite his gruff exterior, there is something gentle and alluring about Donald and when Emily discovers that Fiona is leading a community initiative in support of the developers, she bravely steps up to take Donald's side in the escalating battle, determined to defend the emotional and physical livelihood of this quiet but unusual man - who has grown to trust her and who - despite his situation, just might be the man to sweep her off her feet.

Inspired by a true story, Hampstead is a charming and funny life-affirming tale about how love can be found in the most unexpected places and proves once and for all that age is no barrier to second chances.

Cast: Roberto Duran, Sylvester Stallone, Mike Tyson, Larry Merchant, Marvin Hagler, Thomas Hearns, Manuel Noriega, Ricky Hatton
Genre: Documentary
Director: Mat Hodgson
Status: Production
Synopsis: A veteran of 119 professional bouts across four weight levels, Duran fought in an astonishing five decades. He was a world champion by the age of 21 and fought some of the greatest boxers of all time: Hagler, Sugar Ray Leonard and Hearns to name a few. Durán obliterated all comers. His style began to pack out venues as crowds were seduced by his raw, explosive and instinctive fighting style. He was a fighter, a brawler and a warrior, and the fans loved him. A one man wrecking ball, away from the ring he transcended sport and inspired his beloved Panama to rise toward independence from American control and a CIA funded dictator. I am Duran is the definitive story of this incredible man, his career and legacy, and how he became a hero, an icon, and an inspiration to successive generations.

His aim is to secure a home with his wife Emma, and a future for their baby daughter Mia. His opponent is the brash and controversial Nassar Ali. A big puncher that courts controversy with his outlandish statements. Nassar's intent is to rip the title from Matty, a task that Nassar feels is going to be easy. After a titanic battle, Matty returns home to Emma, but moments later collapses on the living room floor from a delayed reaction to a devastating punch. When Matty awakes from the coma, the real fight begins. Suffering from memory loss and with his personality altered, Matty must begin to piece his life back together as his world disintegrates. Journeyman is a powerful and beautiful story about loss and, ultimately, triumph. It's about our identity, and how in life we sometimes have to dig deep into our soul to discover who we really are.

Lady Macbeth

Cast: Florence Pugh, Cosmo Jarvis, Paul Hilton, Naomi Ackie
Genre: Drama
Director: William Oldroyd
Status: Completed

Synopsis: Strictly confined to her absentee husband's gothic estate in 1865 England's countryside, young Lady Katherine has been trapped in a loveless marriage of convenience. Imprisoned by the harsh tongue and severe scrutiny of her father-in-law, a steely fire of determination burns within her. When a brutish new servant ensnares her interest, their lascivious affair tears down the status quo, awakening a murderous desire to break free of her chains and inflict vengeance, no matter the price. Swirling around the absolutely mesmerizing performance of the steely-eyed Florence Pugh in the title role, this fiery adaptation by Oldroyd and screenwriter Alice Birch (based on Nikolai Leskov's novel) invokes a masterful command of tonal control and breathtaking beauty, whose every frame feels utterly alive.

The Last Witness

Cast: Alex Pettyfer, Talulah Riley, Michael Gambon, Robert Wiciewicz, Luke Treadaway
Genre: Thriller
Director: Piotr Szkopiak
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: In post-war Bristol, neophyte journalist Stephen Underwood is keen to prove his worth in a society where everyone is taught to know his or her place and not to question authority. He works for a local newspaper and yearns to break a big story while his editor, Frank Hamilton, is happy to keep him reporting on nothing more controversial than local community events. However, when Stephen stumbles across the suicide of a Polish soldier from the local Displace Persons' camp, he disregards Hamilton's objections and follows his instincts. Stephen heads to the camp to question the commanding officer, his estranged brother, Captain John Underwood, but John is far from happy to see him and is reluctant to answer any questions. Stephen meets Colonel Janusz Pietrowski, formerly of the Polish Second Corps (under British command) and now a Liaison Officer for the resettlement of Polish troops. When Stephen mentions the suicide, Pietrowski explains that many Poles had lost all hope since their homeland was occupied by Soviet Russia and many fear for their lives but Stephen remains sceptical. Stephen is also intimately involved with Jeanette Mitchell, a Junior Commander in the Auxiliary Territorial Service, who works under his brother at the DP camp. She is trapped in a marriage of convenience with a homosexual military intelligence officer, Mason Mitchell. Both Stephen and Jeanette dream of escaping to London and starting a new life together and in the course of a clandestine meeting in a local public house, Stephen witnesses a confrontation between a new arrival at the camp, Michael Loboda, and a local farmer. During the argument Loboda inadvertently claims he is Russian and not Polish. Curious as to what a Russian is doing posing as a Polish refugee, Stephen questions Loboda. Loboda believes his life is in danger but will not say why and threatens to kill Stephen if he presses him further. Undaunted, Stephen steals a small metal cash-box from Loboda's belongings whilst he is asleep. Inside the box he finds a blood-stained diary belonging to a young Polish cadet but before Stephen can determine its significance, Loboda disappears from the camp in mysterious circumstances. Thus begins Stephen's journey into the unknown and his discovery that Loboda is in fact the last witness left in the West who could testify to the execution of Polish nationals by Stalin's secret police in 1940 and that the diary is conclusive proof of their guilt. He then becomes embroiled in a dangerous and multi-layered conspiracy to suppress the truth about the killings.

Synopsis: Having recently moved to the country with his wife Nancy and their two small children, they renowned 1920s author Robert Graves was struggling for cash and creative inspiration when he chanced upon aspiring writer Laura Riding in a university library. Bewitched by her free spirit and writing, he and his wife offered Riding a home in return for childcare.

This unlikely friendship soon developed into something more; a love triangle between the three of them, with Riding sharing her attention and affections with both Graves and Nancy. Frowned upon by their friends and family, their unconventional relationship nevertheless suited them and when Graves was offered a writing job in London, it was Riding that moved with him, leaving Nancy and the children behind.

Settling in to their life in London, Riding and Graves embraced the bohemian 1920s scene, throwing debauched parties at night and writing by day. It was at one of these parties that handsome Irish poet, Geoffrey Phibbs arrived, unbalancing Graves' relationship with both Riding and with his wife, almost pushing him to the brink of insanity.

An unflinching true story filled with passion, obsession, love and jealousy.

Maradona

Genre: Documentary
Director: Asif Kapadia
Status: Production

Synopsis: Having never won a major tournament, ailing football giant SSC Napoli had criminally underachieved. Their fanatical support was unequalled in both passion and size. None was more feared. But how they ached for success... On 5th July 1984, Diego Maradona arrived in Naples for a world-record fee and for seven years all hell broke loose. The world's most celebrated football genius and the most dysfunctional city in Europe were a perfect match for each other. Maradona was blessed on the field but cursed off it; the charismatic Argentine, quickly led Naples to their first-ever title. It was the stuff of dreams. But there was a price... Diego could do as he pleased whilst performing miracles on the pitch, but when the magic faded he became almost a prisoner of the city. The third film from the Academy Award and BAFTA-winning team behind Senna and Amy, the film will be constructed from over 500 hours of never-before-seen footage from Maradona's personal archive and in the style of Senna and Amy, will be a high-end and definitive feature documentary made with the full support of Maradona. In a city where the devil would have needed bodyguards, Maradona became bigger than God himself. This is the wild and unforgettable story of God-given talent, glory, despair and betrayal, of corruption and ultimately redemption.

Mum's List

Cast: Rafe Spall, Emilia Fox, Elaine Cassidy
Genre: True Story
Director: Niall Johnson
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A beautiful and heart-breaking movie based on the international best-selling book, MUM’S LIST tells the true story of Singe Greene, who had to deal with the tragic loss to cancer of Kate, his wife and mother of his two children. St. John Greene (‘Singe’) never planned to write a book, let alone one like MUM’S LIST. An adventure-loving outdoor sports trainer, he met his future wife, Kate, when they were both teenagers, and they’d been together for more than twenty blissful years. Their perfect world crumbled when their first son Reef, was given a terrifying cancer diagnosis at just eighteen months old. With only a 6% chance of survival, doctors gave him mere days to live. Miraculously, Reef pulled through (and remains healthy to this day). But then, just as things were getting back to normal, Kate was diagnosed with an incurable breast cancer. For Kate, nothing was as important as the happiness and well-being of her family. With Singe she spent hours talking and crying about her hopes and dreams for her family—ones she would now never see realised. Over her last few days she created ‘Mum’s List’, writing her thoughts and wishes and memories down, to help the man she loved create the best life possible for their sons after she was gone. Written on scraps of paper or sent as text messages, day and night, the list captured her passionate nature, her free spirit, her sense of humour, and her undying love for her family. Some entries were instructions...some, observations...others, memories to be kept alive forever. All of them, a memorial to the woman being forced to say goodbye.

Possum

Cast: Harris Sean
Genre: Horror
Director: Matthew Holness
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Philip is a children's entertainer with a troubled past. Together with Possum, the hideous hand puppet he keeps concealed inside a black leather case, he returns to his childhood home compelled to confront his demons. Staying with his cruel stepfather, Maurice, Philip soon discovers that ridding himself of Possum is no easy task. When his attempts to destroy the demonic puppet fail, Philip suspects Maurice of manipulating Possum to cause him further fear and distress. As their relationship rapidly deteriorates, repressed memories of a traumatic childhood start to resurface as Philip becomes convinced that the malicious spirit of Possum is haunting him. Desperate to regain control, Philip burns his puppet, laying the demons of his past to rest. Or so he thinks...When a local child goes missing, a paranoid Philip believes the malevolent Possum has once more come to life. But when the police suspect him of the crimes, Philip is forced to confront the nightmares of his childhood, leading him to hunt down the real monster now preying on the town. Uncovering dark secrets from his own past, Philip discovers that the real demon lurks much closer to home.

Prevenge

Cast: Alice Lowe, Dan Renton Skinner, Gemma Whelan, Kayvan Novak, Kate Dickie
Genre: Horror
Director: Alice Lowe
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A pitch black, wryly British comedy from the mind of Alice Lowe (SIGHTSEERS, HOT FUZZ, PADDINGTON), PREVENGE follows Ruth, a pregnant woman on a killing spree that's as funny as it is vicious. It's her misanthropic unborn baby dictating Ruth's actions, holding society responsible for the absence of a father. The child speaks to Ruth from the womb, coaching her to lure and ultimately kill her unsuspecting victims. Struggling with her conscience, loneliness, and a strange strain of prepartum madness, Ruth must ultimately choose between redemption and destruction at the moment of motherhood. PREVENGE marks the directorial debut from Lowe, who is a true triple threat, writing, directing, and acting in the film during her own real-life pregnancy.

Synopsis: Dan Williams is the enforcer and debt collector for Christian Gregory, who is both his boss and friend. Dan has a young daughter, Olivia whom he tries to keep away from his violent world. This proves impossible when someone from his peers becomes infatuated with her and, seizing an opportunity, suddenly and violently takes away the innocence Dan has tried so hard to protect. When Olivia's attacker is set free without charge Dan embarks on a twenty-four hour revenge rampage through the city, hell-bent on vengeance for the attack. Experienced but disillusioned detective D.C David Reed foresees the impending bloodbath and desperately seeks the authorization from his superior officers to intervene and stop a war on the streets before it starts. Learning of Dan's intent, Christian hires the notorious hit man Mr. Gallo to hunt Dan down before he completes his mission. Knowing time is against him Dan desperately and violently seeks out his target while D.C Reed's intervention could very well bring about the tragedy he is trying so hard to avoid. Dan's mission becomes a race against time to ensure that in Retribution – everybody pays.

Synopsis: Turn of the century London, Sherlock Hound, the greatest dog detective the world has ever seen, is in a slump. There are no new cases and the 'dreaded' Christmas holidays are about to begin. Suddenly, a young puppy, Calvin, appears at his door pleading for his help. He's seen something suspicious flying over London. As Sherlock and Watson contemplate the validity of Calvin's story, a flurry of henchmen pile into 221b Barker Street, followed by her Majesty the Queen. They too are deeply concerned about an 'Unidentified Flying Object', but luckily Calvin found a clue on the way to Barker Street. As Sherlock runs outside to sniff around, a sleigh from the North Pole arrives along with the Head Elf; Santa is missing with only hours until Christmas! Sherlock, Watson and Calvin take Santa's back-up sleigh to the North Pole to look for clues. They find a letter from Santa Claus claiming he's tired of the cold and a map that leads straight to the crown jewels. Could Santa really be planning to steal the crown jewels? Or is it the masterplan of Sherlock's arch nemesis, Moriarty? Sherlock Hound, his trusty side-kick Watson and Calvin, must race against time to foil Moriarty's evil plan, find Santa Claus and save Christmas for all.

Synopsis: With over 200 million album sales worldwide, and remaining the only artist to chart seven consecutive US No. 1's, Whitney Houston was the voice of a generation. Coming from an esteemed lineage of singers, Whitney was destined to be plucked from her gospel-singing roots to rule the world stage. She inspired a generation of singers from Mariah Carey to Beyoncé and her unforgettable performance of The Star-Spangled Banner unlocked an anthem that had for so long been dismissed by many black artists. But all these achievements have become a footnote to a story of addiction and self-destruction. With salacious stories filling the columns of tabloid papers and magazines, Whitney had the voice of an angel onstage, but was being torn apart by her demons offstage. Directed by Academy Award-winning filmmaker Kevin Macdonald (Marley, Touching the Void) and from two-time Academy Award-winning producer Simon Chinn (Man on Wire, Searching for Sugar Man), the film will for the first time, give audiences an unprecedented and unique look into Whitney's life. This will be an unflinching and honest portrait of a rare talent told by those closest to her. Made with full access to her family and collaborators, the film will showcase exclusive audio and never-before-seen video archive from her time as a recording artist and performer. By casting her story and her work in a new and revealing light, WHITNEY HOUSTON will reassess the life and legacy of one of music's biggest stars.

Synopsis: A 3D film for all the family. "We will tell Orwell's classic tale as a vibrant engaging story for 21st Century families. Just imagine Orwell writing today... seeing the entire story from the point of view of an adorable knee-high piglet...

A rite of passage for this once naïve, baby-face piglet Lucky, son of Napoleon, as he witnesses the rise and fall of a dream: a perfect existence without human beings. A modern commentary of the perils of corporate greed, but with all the innocence, joy and sensitivity of a fairy-tale.

Just great fun, anarchic, contemporary, quick-witted and very funny ... but also fearful, whereby jeopardy is in the unseen implied violence; raucous, thrilling with big set pieces; but also subtle – with incisive subversion and satire; heartbreakingly honest, accepting of sadness and emotionally ebullient". Synopsis: In a land of cats, a long time ago,,,,,

The felines of Kakamucho are about to have their litter boxes shaken when their new Samurai turns up and he's not quite what they expected - HE'S A DOG!

Hank, a scrappy, wide-eyed pooch on the run, scrambles ashore with dreams of becoming a Samurai like his kitty heroes. There's just one problem; he doesn't QUITE fit in. But he is the perfect pawn for a scheming warlord named Ika Chu, who is after Kakamucho; and needs the townscats out of his way. What better way to chase out a bunch of cats than a dog!

Hank rolls into Kakamucho large and in charge, but is quickly taken down a peg when confronted but a hornets' nest of furious townscats - he's no Samurai, he's a dog! His only champion is Emiko, a young kitten with her own dreams of becoming a Samurai. This is going to be a lot harder than Hank Expected.

Luckily friends and training turn up in unlikely places. Hank finds the town outcast, a catnip-addled former swordsman named Yojimbo, who gives him a crash course, literally in how to be a Samurai. With a little grit, determination, and his own canine style, Hank becomes a true Samurai and teaches his new companions a big lesson; it doesn't matter where you come from, but who you are inside.

Cats and dogs are living together. Action. Comedy. Hysteria

Market Office: 1C-E14
Home Office tel: +44 20 7193 1801

Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townsfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries.

Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Harborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town. _x0003_

Genre: Comedy
Director: Josef Baar
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: When Rosa, a lonely but gifted art expert, is hired to authenticate the origins of a 6,000-year-old bowl a surprising relationship develops. They can see into each other's pasts and, given its age, the Bowl has an extensive repertoire of stories of outlandish human behaviour through the years, which it recalls in witty, atmospheric style. Meanwhile, Rosa has taken in house-guest Nicki, a manipulative temptress with an ever-growing trail of scorned lovers. Nicki embarks on stealing and selling the contents of Rosa's flat while seducing and swindling her way through London. Rosa's hapless quest for romance sees her dates becoming increasingly disastrous, her frustration eventually leading her to kidnap the TV dating expert whose advice had only worsened her situation. All the time, Rosa is trying to keep the Bowl to herself, desperately avoiding Marius, the eccentric antiques collector who initially sought her valuation of the piece.

With a guardian angel returned from the dead running all over town keeping Nicki safe and out of trouble, Rosa somehow survives the legion of colourful characters and mayhem surrounding her. But will this quirky entourage – not least the watchful eye of the Bowl – make or break her search for love?

Gateway 6

Cast: Rhys Ifans, Ed Skrein, Sofia Boutella
Genre: Science-fiction
Director: Tanel Toom
Status: Pre-Production
Synopsis: Earth in the not too distant future...

Overwhelming tides and floods have swept the planet, obliterating all human civilisation barring two decimated continents. Billions die during the mass migration to higher land.

Between the continents, one lone station stands guard – Gateway 6.

Four soldiers are stationed in this remote military outpost, surrounded by an endless ocean thousands of miles from home. They are the last bastion, defending their homeland from an invasion by an enemy they have never seen, monitoring for signs of attack and prepared to sacrifice themselves by detonating their nuclear device should an enemy fleet appear.

But their tour of duty ended 3 months ago. The relief crew still hasn't shown up. Alone and uncertain as to what fate awaits them, the simmering tension amongst the crew only escalates when a mysterious boat drifts into range – is it the help they have been waiting so long for, or something far more sinister?

Ghost Stories

Cast: Andy Nyman, Martin Freeman, Alex Lawther, Paul Whitehouse
Genre: Thriller
Director: Jeremy Dyson
Status: Post-Production
Synopsis: Professor Phillip Goodman (Andy Nyman), psychologist and arch-sceptic, has his rationality tested to the hilt when he stumbles across a long-lost file containing details of three terrifying 'hauntings'. Shaken by what he reads, Goodman embarks on a mission to find rational explanations for these ghostly stories. As Goodman investigates, he meets three tormented people, each with a tale more frightening, uncanny and inexplicable than the last. Night-watchman Tony Matthews (Paul Whitehouse) had a horrifying encounter in an empty warehouse and it has haunted him for years. Teenager Simon Rifkind (Alex Lawther) took a late night drive that has rendered him unable to sleep. Mike Priddle (Martin Freeman), a brash banker, has had his worldview shaken to the core by unquiet spirits that apparently inhabit his otherwise perfect existence. As Goodman digs into their stories, his carefully maintained and rational world starts to dissolve around him. Is it a trick of the mind or are darker forces at work? Gradually Goodman is drawn towards the unearthing of a long-buried secret that will pull his life, and everything he thought he knew, apart.

God's Own Country

Cast: Ian Hart, Gemma Jones
Genre: Drama
Director: Francis Lee
Status: Completed
Synopsis: Spring, Yorkshire, England. Johnny Saxby, a 25-year-old sheep farmer, has sacrificed going away to college or getting a job in town to run the family farm for his ailing father, Martin (Ian Hart), and stoic grandmother Deirdre (Gemma Jones), numbing the daily frustration of his desolate life with binge drinking and casual sex. As lambing season approaches, Martin hires a Romanian migrant worker, Gheorghe, to assist the already exhausted Johnny. Johnny bitterly resents Gheorghe, stubbornly insisting he can cope on his own, but Gheorghe proves he not only understands this farming life, but more importantly, he understands Johnny.

You can smell the mud in this movie. Every gritty sensual detail springs from authenticity, especially the powerful emotional journey of its young leads played with fierce commitment by Josh O'Connor as Johnny and Alec Secareanu as Georghe. God's Own Country marks the discovery of a major new talent in writer/director Francis Lee. This one is not to be missed.

Hampstead

Cast: Diane Keaton, Brendan Gleeson
Genre: Social issues
Director: Joel Hopkins
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Hampstead Village, London. Famous for its beautiful and much-loved Heath – a piece of quiet countryside in a vast metropolis. Living on the edge of the Heath is American widow, Emily Walters (Diane Keaton), who can't quite focus on the things that need attention, like her lovely old apartment, her finances and even her son. Despite encouragement from her close friend Fiona, she doesn't want to admit that she's drifting through life without much thought to her future. One day while looking out across the Heath from her attic window, Emily spies a ramshackle hut, which appears to be inhabited by an unkempt man. She witnesses him being attacked by a group of professional thugs. Shocked, she calls the police and watches, through her binoculars, as help arrives. The next day she ventures into the woods in search of the man. Donald Horner (Brendan Gleeson) has lived quietly and harmoniously on the edge of the Heath for 17 years but now his lifestyle is under threat - his home is the target of property developers who've started using heavy-handed tactics to remove him. When Emily introduces herself, he is naturally suspicious and politely thanks her but rebuffs her attention. Despite his gruff exterior, there is something gentle and alluring about Donald and when Emily discovers that Fiona is leading a community initiative in support of the developers, she bravely steps up to take Donald's side in the escalating battle, determined to defend the emotional and physical livelihood of this quiet but unusual man - who has grown to trust her and who - despite his situation, just might be the man to sweep her off her feet.

Inspired by a true story, Hampstead is a charming and funny life-affirming tale about how love can be found in the most unexpected places and proves once and for all that age is no barrier to second chances.

The Happy Prince

Genre: Drama
Director: Rupert Everett
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: THE HAPPY PRINCE is about the last days in the life of Oscar Wilde – a celebrity, a genius, an icon, even a national treasure – now in the midst of the Public meltdown. We look at the excessive quadrangular love story he is trapped in. Everyone wants Oscar – Constance, Robbie and Bosie. The result is that freedom eludes him. The once hailed writer observes his own failure with ironic distance and regards the car crash of his life with detachment and humor. The film is a comedy with tragic undertones in the tradition of the best of English tragedies.

Cast: Roberto Duran, Sylvester Stallone, Mike Tyson, Larry Merchant, Marvin Hagler, Thomas Hearns, Manuel Noriega, Ricky Hatton
Genre: Documentary
Director: Mat Hodgson
Status: Production
Synopsis: A veteran of 119 professional bouts across four weight levels, Duran fought in an astonishing five decades. He was a world champion by the age of 21 and fought some of the greatest boxers of all time: Hagler, Sugar Ray Leonard and Hearns to name a few. Durán obliterated all comers. His style began to pack out venues as crowds were seduced by his raw, explosive and instinctive fighting style. He was a fighter, a brawler and a warrior, and the fans loved him. A one man wrecking ball, away from the ring he transcended sport and inspired his beloved Panama to rise toward independence from American control and a CIA funded dictator. I am Duran is the definitive story of this incredible man, his career and legacy, and how he became a hero, an icon, and an inspiration to successive generations.

Synopsis:	Matty Burton is the middleweight boxing champion of the world. Now, coming towards the end of his career, he knows that he must make his money and get out of the game. His aim is to secure a home with his wife Emma, and a future for their baby daughter Mia. His opponent is the brash and controversial Nassar Ali. A big puncher that courts controversy with his outlandish statements. Nassar's intent is to rip the title from Matty, a task that Nassar feels is going to be easy. After a titanic battle, Matty returns home to Emma, but moments later collapses on the living room floor from a delayed reaction to a devastating punch. When Matty awakes from the coma, the real fight begins. Suffering from memory loss and with his personality altered, Matty must begin to piece his life back together as his world disintegrates. Journeyman is a powerful and beautiful story about loss and, ultimately, triumph. It's about our identity, and how in life we sometimes have to dig deep into our soul to discover who we really are.

Genre: Thriller
Director: Piotr Szkopiak
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: In post-war Bristol, neophyte journalist Stephen Underwood is keen to prove his worth in a society where everyone is taught to know his or her place and not to question authority. He works for a local newspaper and yearns to break a big story while his editor, Frank Hamilton, is happy to keep him reporting on nothing more controversial than local community events. However, when Stephen stumbles across the suicide of a Polish soldier from the local Displace Persons' camp, he disregards Hamilton's objections and follows his instincts. Stephen heads to the camp to question the commanding officer, his estranged brother, Captain John Underwood, but John is far from happy to see him and is reluctant to answer any questions. Stephen meets Colonel Janusz Pietrowski, formerly of the Polish Second Corps (under British command) and now a Liaison Officer for the resettlement of Polish troops. When Stephen mentions the suicide, Pietrowski explains that many Poles had lost all hope since their homeland was occupied by Soviet Russia and many fear for their lives but Stephen remains sceptical. Stephen is also intimately involved with Jeanette Mitchell, a Junior Commander in the Auxiliary Territorial Service, who works under his brother at the DP camp. She is trapped in a marriage of convenience with a homosexual military intelligence officer, Mason Mitchell. Both Stephen and Jeanette dream of escaping to London and starting a new life together and in the course of a clandestine meeting in a local public house, Stephen witnesses a confrontation between a new arrival at the camp, Michael Loboda, and a local farmer. During the argument Loboda inadvertently claims he is Russian and not Polish. Curious as to what a Russian is doing posing as a Polish refugee, Stephen questions Loboda. Loboda believes his life is in danger but will not say why and threatens to kill Stephen if he presses him further. Undaunted, Stephen steals a small metal cash-box from Loboda's belongings whilst he is asleep. Inside the box he finds a blood-stained diary belonging to a young Polish cadet but before Stephen can determine its significance, Loboda disappears from the camp in mysterious circumstances. Thus begins Stephen's journey into the unknown and his discovery that Loboda is in fact the last witness left in the West who could testify to the execution of Polish nationals by Stalin's secret police in 1940 and that the diary is conclusive proof of their guilt. He then becomes embroiled in a dangerous and multi-layered conspiracy to suppress the truth about the killings.

Synopsis: Having recently moved to the country with his wife Nancy and their two small children, they renowned 1920s author Robert Graves was struggling for cash and creative inspiration when he chanced upon aspiring writer Laura Riding in a university library. Bewitched by her free spirit and writing, he and his wife offered Riding a home in return for childcare.

This unlikely friendship soon developed into something more; a love triangle between the three of them, with Riding sharing her attention and affections with both Graves and Nancy. Frowned upon by their friends and family, their unconventional relationship nevertheless suited them and when Graves was offered a writing job in London, it was Riding that moved with him, leaving Nancy and the children behind.

Settling in to their life in London, Riding and Graves embraced the bohemian 1920s scene, throwing debauched parties at night and writing by day. It was at one of these parties that handsome Irish poet, Geoffrey Phibbs arrived, unbalancing Graves' relationship with both Riding and with his wife, almost pushing him to the brink of insanity.

An unflinching true story filled with passion, obsession, love and jealousy.

Synopsis: Fifteen-year-old Charley Thompson wants a home, food on the table and a high school he can attend for more than part of a year. But as the son of a single father working in warehouses across the Pacific Northwest, finding some stability is hard for Charley. Hoping for a new start they move to Portland where Charley takes a summer job working for a surly, washed up horse trainer at the local race track. When tragic events leave Charley homeless, his only comforts become his friendship with a failing racehorse named Lean on Pete and a photograph of his only known relative. In increasingly desperate circumstances, Charley will head east, hoping to find his aunt who had once lived a thousand miles away in Wyoming - but the journey will be a perilous one.

Maradona

Genre: Documentary
Director: Asif Kapadia
Status: Production

Synopsis: Having never won a major tournament, ailing football giant SSC Napoli had criminally underachieved. Their fanatical support was unequalled in both passion and size. None was more feared. But how they ached for success... On 5th July 1984, Diego Maradona arrived in Naples for a world-record fee and for seven years all hell broke loose. The world's most celebrated football genius and the most dysfunctional city in Europe were a perfect match for each other. Maradona was blessed on the field but cursed off it; the charismatic Argentine, quickly led Naples to their first-ever title. It was the stuff of dreams. But there was a price... Diego could do as he pleased whilst performing miracles on the pitch, but when the magic faded he became almost a prisoner of the city. The third film from the Academy Award and BAFTA-winning team behind Senna and Amy, the film will be constructed from over 500 hours of never-before-seen footage from Maradona's personal archive and in the style of Senna and Amy, will be a high-end and definitive feature documentary made with the full support of Maradona. In a city where the devil would have needed bodyguards, Maradona became bigger than God himself. This is the wild and unforgettable story of God-given talent, glory, despair and betrayal, of corruption and ultimately redemption.

Mum's List

Cast: Rafe Spall, Emilia Fox, Elaine Cassidy
Genre: True Story
Director: Niall Johnson
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A beautiful and heart-breaking movie based on the international best-selling book, MUM’S LIST tells the true story of Singe Greene, who had to deal with the tragic loss to cancer of Kate, his wife and mother of his two children. St. John Greene (‘Singe’) never planned to write a book, let alone one like MUM’S LIST. An adventure-loving outdoor sports trainer, he met his future wife, Kate, when they were both teenagers, and they’d been together for more than twenty blissful years. Their perfect world crumbled when their first son Reef, was given a terrifying cancer diagnosis at just eighteen months old. With only a 6% chance of survival, doctors gave him mere days to live. Miraculously, Reef pulled through (and remains healthy to this day). But then, just as things were getting back to normal, Kate was diagnosed with an incurable breast cancer. For Kate, nothing was as important as the happiness and well-being of her family. With Singe she spent hours talking and crying about her hopes and dreams for her family—ones she would now never see realised. Over her last few days she created ‘Mum’s List’, writing her thoughts and wishes and memories down, to help the man she loved create the best life possible for their sons after she was gone. Written on scraps of paper or sent as text messages, day and night, the list captured her passionate nature, her free spirit, her sense of humour, and her undying love for her family. Some entries were instructions...some, observations...others, memories to be kept alive forever. All of them, a memorial to the woman being forced to say goodbye.

Synopsis: Turn of the century London, Sherlock Hound, the greatest dog detective the world has ever seen, is in a slump. There are no new cases and the 'dreaded' Christmas holidays are about to begin. Suddenly, a young puppy, Calvin, appears at his door pleading for his help. He's seen something suspicious flying over London. As Sherlock and Watson contemplate the validity of Calvin's story, a flurry of henchmen pile into 221b Barker Street, followed by her Majesty the Queen. They too are deeply concerned about an 'Unidentified Flying Object', but luckily Calvin found a clue on the way to Barker Street. As Sherlock runs outside to sniff around, a sleigh from the North Pole arrives along with the Head Elf; Santa is missing with only hours until Christmas! Sherlock, Watson and Calvin take Santa's back-up sleigh to the North Pole to look for clues. They find a letter from Santa Claus claiming he's tired of the cold and a map that leads straight to the crown jewels. Could Santa really be planning to steal the crown jewels? Or is it the masterplan of Sherlock's arch nemesis, Moriarty? Sherlock Hound, his trusty side-kick Watson and Calvin, must race against time to foil Moriarty's evil plan, find Santa Claus and save Christmas for all.

We meet them as they travel through the inhospitable desert on their way to execute the raid. Joe, the older of the two, carries a brutal and unrepentant view of the world, defined by fear and adoration of their invisible but omnipresent boss. Paddy is younger and recklessly ambitious, hungry to progress through the ranks of the crew. Neither man trusts the other as they tell half truths and stories of previous victories in a battle to determine who controls this increasingly volatile situation.

As the raid progresses, deeply hidden truths about both men's pasts are revealed, fracturing their already fragile relationship and forcing them to face up to who they really are in order to survive its violent and shocking conclusion.

Synopsis: With over 200 million album sales worldwide, and remaining the only artist to chart seven consecutive US No. 1's, Whitney Houston was the voice of a generation. Coming from an esteemed lineage of singers, Whitney was destined to be plucked from her gospel-singing roots to rule the world stage. She inspired a generation of singers from Mariah Carey to Beyoncé and her unforgettable performance of The Star-Spangled Banner unlocked an anthem that had for so long been dismissed by many black artists. But all these achievements have become a footnote to a story of addiction and self-destruction. With salacious stories filling the columns of tabloid papers and magazines, Whitney had the voice of an angel onstage, but was being torn apart by her demons offstage. Directed by Academy Award-winning filmmaker Kevin Macdonald (Marley, Touching the Void) and from two-time Academy Award-winning producer Simon Chinn (Man on Wire, Searching for Sugar Man), the film will for the first time, give audiences an unprecedented and unique look into Whitney's life. This will be an unflinching and honest portrait of a rare talent told by those closest to her. Made with full access to her family and collaborators, the film will showcase exclusive audio and never-before-seen video archive from her time as a recording artist and performer. By casting her story and her work in a new and revealing light, WHITNEY HOUSTON will reassess the life and legacy of one of music's biggest stars.

Synopsis: A 3D film for all the family. "We will tell Orwell's classic tale as a vibrant engaging story for 21st Century families. Just imagine Orwell writing today... seeing the entire story from the point of view of an adorable knee-high piglet...

A rite of passage for this once naïve, baby-face piglet Lucky, son of Napoleon, as he witnesses the rise and fall of a dream: a perfect existence without human beings. A modern commentary of the perils of corporate greed, but with all the innocence, joy and sensitivity of a fairy-tale.

Just great fun, anarchic, contemporary, quick-witted and very funny ... but also fearful, whereby jeopardy is in the unseen implied violence; raucous, thrilling with big set pieces; but also subtle – with incisive subversion and satire; heartbreakingly honest, accepting of sadness and emotionally ebullient". Hank, a scrappy, wide-eyed pooch on the run, scrambles ashore with dreams of becoming a Samurai like his kitty heroes. There's just one problem; he doesn't QUITE fit in. But he is the perfect pawn for a scheming warlord named Ika Chu, who is after Kakamucho; and needs the townscats out of his way. What better way to chase out a bunch of cats than a dog!

Hank rolls into Kakamucho large and in charge, but is quickly taken down a peg when confronted but a hornets' nest of furious townscats - he's no Samurai, he's a dog! His only champion is Emiko, a young kitten with her own dreams of becoming a Samurai. This is going to be a lot harder than Hank Expected.

Luckily friends and training turn up in unlikely places. Hank finds the town outcast, a catnip-addled former swordsman named Yojimbo, who gives him a crash course, literally in how to be a Samurai. With a little grit, determination, and his own canine style, Hank becomes a true Samurai and teaches his new companions a big lesson; it doesn't matter where you come from, but who you are inside.

Cats and dogs are living together. Action. Comedy. Hysteria

Synopsis: When, Birdie, fragile teenager with an overactive imagination is placed in an isolated Midwestern convent on the brink of closure, her strange and in some cases grotesque obsessions begin to consume her attention. Outside life beckons when she meets Julia, the confident, spirited maintenance girl, inspiring a growing infatuation. But privately, Birdie can't turn away from her fascination with the gory and whimsical hallucinations that plague her. Birdie sets off on her spiritual quest to discover if the source of her visions is something saintly or a dark heresy. The convent itself holds ghosts of nuns who've met untimely deaths. Are they calling Birdie to the same fate?

Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townsfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries.

Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Harborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town. _x0003_

Synopsis: Breathe...

From twice Academy Award nominated writer William Nicholson (Everest, Unbroken, Les Misérables and Gladiator), Breathe is an inspirational true story of love without limits.

Handsome, adventurous and brilliant, Robin (Andrew Garfield), has his whole life ahead of him when he is paralysed by Polio. Against all advice, Robin's beautiful wife Diana (Claire Foy) brings him home; where her devotion, intimacy and witty determination transcends his disability and sets him free. Together they refuse to be imprisoned by his suffering; transforming the lives of others with their humour, courage and lust for life.

Breathe is a heart-warming and highly emotional celebration of bravery and human possibility; where deep friendship is rooted in honesty and seeing the funny side of life.

A love story about living every breath as though it's your last.

Dateless

Genre: Comedy
Director: Josef Baar
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: When Rosa, a lonely but gifted art expert, is hired to authenticate the origins of a 6,000-year-old bowl a surprising relationship develops. They can see into each other's pasts and, given its age, the Bowl has an extensive repertoire of stories of outlandish human behaviour through the years, which it recalls in witty, atmospheric style. Meanwhile, Rosa has taken in house-guest Nicki, a manipulative temptress with an ever-growing trail of scorned lovers. Nicki embarks on stealing and selling the contents of Rosa's flat while seducing and swindling her way through London. Rosa's hapless quest for romance sees her dates becoming increasingly disastrous, her frustration eventually leading her to kidnap the TV dating expert whose advice had only worsened her situation. All the time, Rosa is trying to keep the Bowl to herself, desperately avoiding Marius, the eccentric antiques collector who initially sought her valuation of the piece.

With a guardian angel returned from the dead running all over town keeping Nicki safe and out of trouble, Rosa somehow survives the legion of colourful characters and mayhem surrounding her. But will this quirky entourage – not least the watchful eye of the Bowl – make or break her search for love?

Synopsis: Earth in the not too distant future...

Overwhelming tides and floods have swept the planet, obliterating all human civilisation barring two decimated continents. Billions die during the mass migration to higher land.

Between the continents, one lone station stands guard – Gateway 6.

Four soldiers are stationed in this remote military outpost, surrounded by an endless ocean thousands of miles from home. They are the last bastion, defending their homeland from an invasion by an enemy they have never seen, monitoring for signs of attack and prepared to sacrifice themselves by detonating their nuclear device should an enemy fleet appear.

But their tour of duty ended 3 months ago. The relief crew still hasn't shown up. Alone and uncertain as to what fate awaits them, the simmering tension amongst the crew only escalates when a mysterious boat drifts into range – is it the help they have been waiting so long for, or something far more sinister?

Ghost Stories

Cast: Andy Nyman, Martin Freeman, Alex Lawther, Paul Whitehouse
Genre: Thriller
Director: Jeremy Dyson
Status: Post-Production
Synopsis: Professor Phillip Goodman (Andy Nyman), psychologist and arch-sceptic, has his rationality tested to the hilt when he stumbles across a long-lost file containing details of three terrifying 'hauntings'. Shaken by what he reads, Goodman embarks on a mission to find rational explanations for these ghostly stories. As Goodman investigates, he meets three tormented people, each with a tale more frightening, uncanny and inexplicable than the last. Night-watchman Tony Matthews (Paul Whitehouse) had a horrifying encounter in an empty warehouse and it has haunted him for years. Teenager Simon Rifkind (Alex Lawther) took a late night drive that has rendered him unable to sleep. Mike Priddle (Martin Freeman), a brash banker, has had his worldview shaken to the core by unquiet spirits that apparently inhabit his otherwise perfect existence. As Goodman digs into their stories, his carefully maintained and rational world starts to dissolve around him. Is it a trick of the mind or are darker forces at work? Gradually Goodman is drawn towards the unearthing of a long-buried secret that will pull his life, and everything he thought he knew, apart.

God's Own Country

Cast: Ian Hart, Gemma Jones
Genre: Drama
Director: Francis Lee
Status: Completed
Synopsis: Spring, Yorkshire, England. Johnny Saxby, a 25-year-old sheep farmer, has sacrificed going away to college or getting a job in town to run the family farm for his ailing father, Martin (Ian Hart), and stoic grandmother Deirdre (Gemma Jones), numbing the daily frustration of his desolate life with binge drinking and casual sex. As lambing season approaches, Martin hires a Romanian migrant worker, Gheorghe, to assist the already exhausted Johnny. Johnny bitterly resents Gheorghe, stubbornly insisting he can cope on his own, but Gheorghe proves he not only understands this farming life, but more importantly, he understands Johnny.

You can smell the mud in this movie. Every gritty sensual detail springs from authenticity, especially the powerful emotional journey of its young leads played with fierce commitment by Josh O'Connor as Johnny and Alec Secareanu as Georghe. God's Own Country marks the discovery of a major new talent in writer/director Francis Lee. This one is not to be missed.

Hampstead

Cast: Diane Keaton, Brendan Gleeson
Genre: Social issues
Director: Joel Hopkins
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Hampstead Village, London. Famous for its beautiful and much-loved Heath – a piece of quiet countryside in a vast metropolis. Living on the edge of the Heath is American widow, Emily Walters (Diane Keaton), who can't quite focus on the things that need attention, like her lovely old apartment, her finances and even her son. Despite encouragement from her close friend Fiona, she doesn't want to admit that she's drifting through life without much thought to her future. One day while looking out across the Heath from her attic window, Emily spies a ramshackle hut, which appears to be inhabited by an unkempt man. She witnesses him being attacked by a group of professional thugs. Shocked, she calls the police and watches, through her binoculars, as help arrives. The next day she ventures into the woods in search of the man. Donald Horner (Brendan Gleeson) has lived quietly and harmoniously on the edge of the Heath for 17 years but now his lifestyle is under threat - his home is the target of property developers who've started using heavy-handed tactics to remove him. When Emily introduces herself, he is naturally suspicious and politely thanks her but rebuffs her attention. Despite his gruff exterior, there is something gentle and alluring about Donald and when Emily discovers that Fiona is leading a community initiative in support of the developers, she bravely steps up to take Donald's side in the escalating battle, determined to defend the emotional and physical livelihood of this quiet but unusual man - who has grown to trust her and who - despite his situation, just might be the man to sweep her off her feet.

Inspired by a true story, Hampstead is a charming and funny life-affirming tale about how love can be found in the most unexpected places and proves once and for all that age is no barrier to second chances.

Synopsis: THE HAPPY PRINCE is about the last days in the life of Oscar Wilde – a celebrity, a genius, an icon, even a national treasure – now in the midst of the Public meltdown. We look at the excessive quadrangular love story he is trapped in. Everyone wants Oscar – Constance, Robbie and Bosie. The result is that freedom eludes him. The once hailed writer observes his own failure with ironic distance and regards the car crash of his life with detachment and humor. The film is a comedy with tragic undertones in the tradition of the best of English tragedies.

Genre: Drama
Director: Claire Denis
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: Deep space. Beyond our solar system. Monte and his infant daughter Willow live together aboard a spacecraft, in complete isolation. A solitary man, whose strict self-discipline is a protection against desire – his own and that of others - Monte fathered the girl against his will. His sperm was used to inseminate Boyse, the young woman who gave birth to her. They were members of a crew of prisoners: space convicts, death row inmates. Guinea pigs sent on a mission to the black hole closest to Earth. Now only Monte and Willow remain. And Monte is changed. Through his daughter, for the first time, he experiences the birth of an all-powerful love. Willow grows, becoming a young girl, then a young woman. Together, alone, father and daughter approach their destination – the black hole in which all time and space cease to exist.

Director: Mat Hodgson Market Office: 1C-F24 UK Film Centre
Status: Production Home Office tel: +44 20 3397 4410
Synopsis: A veteran of 119 professional bouts across four weight levels, Duran fought in an astonishing five decades. He was a world champion by the age of 21 and fought some of the greatest boxers of all time: Hagler, Sugar Ray Leonard and Hearns to name a few. Durán obliterated all comers. His style began to pack out venues as crowds were seduced by his raw, explosive and instinctive fighting style. He was a fighter, a brawler and a warrior, and the fans loved him. A one man wrecking ball, away from the ring he transcended sport and inspired his beloved Panama to rise toward independence from American control and a CIA funded dictator. I am Duran is the definitive story of this incredible man, his career and legacy, and how he became a hero, an icon, and an inspiration to successive generations.

Synopsis: Matty Burton is the middleweight boxing champion of the world. Now, coming towards the end of his career, he knows that he must make his money and get out of the game. His aim is to secure a home with his wife Emma, and a future for their baby daughter Mia. His opponent is the brash and controversial Nassar Ali. A big puncher that courts controversy with his outlandish statements. Nassar's intent is to rip the title from Matty, a task that Nassar feels is going to be easy. After a titanic battle, Matty returns home to Emma, but moments later collapses on the living room floor from a delayed reaction to a devastating punch. When Matty awakes from the coma, the real fight begins. Suffering from memory loss and with his personality altered, Matty must begin to piece his life back together as his world disintegrates. Journeyman is a powerful and beautiful story about loss and, ultimately, triumph. It's about our identity, and how in life we sometimes have to dig deep into our soul to discover who we really are.

Genre: Thriller
Director: Piotr Szkopiak
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: In post-war Bristol, neophyte journalist Stephen Underwood is keen to prove his worth in a society where everyone is taught to know his or her place and not to question authority. He works for a local newspaper and yearns to break a big story while his editor, Frank Hamilton, is happy to keep him reporting on nothing more controversial than local community events. However, when Stephen stumbles across the suicide of a Polish soldier from the local Displace Persons' camp, he disregards Hamilton's objections and follows his instincts. Stephen heads to the camp to question the commanding officer, his estranged brother, Captain John Underwood, but John is far from happy to see him and is reluctant to answer any questions. Stephen meets Colonel Janusz Pietrowski, formerly of the Polish Second Corps (under British command) and now a Liaison Officer for the resettlement of Polish troops. When Stephen mentions the suicide, Pietrowski explains that many Poles had lost all hope since their homeland was occupied by Soviet Russia and many fear for their lives but Stephen remains sceptical. Stephen is also intimately involved with Jeanette Mitchell, a Junior Commander in the Auxiliary Territorial Service, who works under his brother at the DP camp. She is trapped in a marriage of convenience with a homosexual military intelligence officer, Mason Mitchell. Both Stephen and Jeanette dream of escaping to London and starting a new life together and in the course of a clandestine meeting in a local public house, Stephen witnesses a confrontation between a new arrival at the camp, Michael Loboda, and a local farmer. During the argument Loboda inadvertently claims he is Russian and not Polish. Curious as to what a Russian is doing posing as a Polish refugee, Stephen questions Loboda. Loboda believes his life is in danger but will not say why and threatens to kill Stephen if he presses him further. Undaunted, Stephen steals a small metal cash-box from Loboda's belongings whilst he is asleep. Inside the box he finds a blood-stained diary belonging to a young Polish cadet but before Stephen can determine its significance, Loboda disappears from the camp in mysterious circumstances. Thus begins Stephen's journey into the unknown and his discovery that Loboda is in fact the last witness left in the West who could testify to the execution of Polish nationals by Stalin's secret police in 1940 and that the diary is conclusive proof of their guilt. He then becomes embroiled in a dangerous and multi-layered conspiracy to suppress the truth about the killings.

Synopsis: Having recently moved to the country with his wife Nancy and their two small children, the renowned 1920s author Robert Graves was struggling for cash and creative inspiration when he chanced upon aspiring writer Laura Riding in a university library. Bewitched by her free spirit and writing, he and his wife offered Riding a home in return for childcare.

This unlikely friendship soon developed into something more; a love triangle between the three of them, with Riding sharing her attention and affections with both Graves and Nancy. Frowned upon by their friends and family, their unconventional relationship nevertheless suited them and when Graves was offered a writing job in London, it was Riding that moved with him, leaving Nancy and the children behind.

Settling in to their life in London, Riding and Graves embraced the bohemian 1920s scene, throwing debauched parties at night and writing by day. It was at one of these parties that handsome Irish poet, Geoffrey Phibbs arrived, unbalancing Graves' relationship with both Riding and with his wife, almost pushing him to the brink of insanity.

An unflinching true story filled with passion, obsession, love and jealousy.

Maradona

Genre: Documentary
Director: Asif Kapadia
Status: Production

Synopsis: Having never won a major tournament, ailing football giant SSC Napoli had criminally underachieved. Their fanatical support was unequalled in both passion and size. None was more feared. But how they ached for success... On 5th July 1984, Diego Maradona arrived in Naples for a world-record fee and for seven years all hell broke loose. The world's most celebrated football genius and the most dysfunctional city in Europe were a perfect match for each other. Maradona was blessed on the field but cursed off it; the charismatic Argentine, quickly led Naples to their first-ever title. It was the stuff of dreams. But there was a price... Diego could do as he pleased whilst performing miracles on the pitch, but when the magic faded he became almost a prisoner of the city. The third film from the Academy Award and BAFTA-winning team behind Senna and Amy, the film will be constructed from over 500 hours of never-before-seen footage from Maradona's personal archive and in the style of Senna and Amy, will be a high-end and definitive feature documentary made with the full support of Maradona. In a city where the devil would have needed bodyguards, Maradona became bigger than God himself. This is the wild and unforgettable story of God-given talent, glory, despair and betrayal, of corruption and ultimately redemption.

The Marker

Cast: Frederick Schmidt
Genre: Thriller
Director: Justin Edgar
Status: Completed

Synopsis: The Marker is a British redemption thriller following underworld criminal Marley as he struggles to overcome his feelings of grief and guilt after killing a young mother. Marley is asked to identify the body of his estranged junkie mother. Later, in a fragile emotional state, he encounters a Romanian woman called Ana and her 9 year old daughter Cristina. During a confrontation over an unpaid debt he accidentally kills Ana. Marley goes to jail for manslaughter but soon realises that Ana has returned as a manifestation of his guilt. Eventually they forge an uneasy truce on the understanding that he will take care of Cristina upon his release. By the time Marley is released, Cristina is a teenager. He discovers that she has been absorbed into a dark world of corruption and people trafficking. He must use his criminal skills and knowledge of the brutal underworld to track her down. This is a redemption story of the deepest, darkest noir in the territory of UN PROPHETE or BIUTIFUL with some breathtaking twists and action scenes.

Mum's List

Cast: Rafe Spall, Emilia Fox, Elaine Cassidy
Genre: True Story
Director: Niall Johnson
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A beautiful and heart-breaking movie based on the international best-selling book, MUM’S LIST tells the true story of Singe Greene, who had to deal with the tragic loss to cancer of Kate, his wife and mother of his two children. St. John Greene (‘Singe’) never planned to write a book, let alone one like MUM’S LIST. An adventure-loving outdoor sports trainer, he met his future wife, Kate, when they were both teenagers, and they’d been together for more than twenty blissful years. Their perfect world crumbled when their first son Reef, was given a terrifying cancer diagnosis at just eighteen months old. With only a 6% chance of survival, doctors gave him mere days to live. Miraculously, Reef pulled through (and remains healthy to this day). But then, just as things were getting back to normal, Kate was diagnosed with an incurable breast cancer. For Kate, nothing was as important as the happiness and well-being of her family. With Singe she spent hours talking and crying about her hopes and dreams for her family—ones she would now never see realised. Over her last few days she created ‘Mum’s List’, writing her thoughts and wishes and memories down, to help the man she loved create the best life possible for their sons after she was gone. Written on scraps of paper or sent as text messages, day and night, the list captured her passionate nature, her free spirit, her sense of humour, and her undying love for her family. Some entries were instructions...some, observations...others, memories to be kept alive forever. All of them, a memorial to the woman being forced to say goodbye.

Director: Alice Lowe
Status: Completed

Synopsis: A pitch black, wryly British comedy from the mind of Alice Lowe (SIGHTSEERS, HOT FUZZ, PADDINGTON), PREVENGE follows Ruth, a pregnant woman on a killing spree that's as funny as it is vicious. It's her misanthropic unborn baby dictating Ruth's actions, holding society responsible for the absence of a father. The child speaks to Ruth from the womb, coaching her to lure and ultimately kill her unsuspecting victims. Struggling with her conscience, loneliness, and a strange strain of prepartum madness, Ruth must ultimately choose between redemption and destruction at the moment of motherhood. PREVENGE marks the directorial debut from Lowe, who is a true triple threat, writing, directing, and acting in the film during her own real-life pregnancy.

There are no new cases and the 'dreaded' Christmas holidays are about to begin. Suddenly, a young puppy, Calvin, appears at his door pleading for his help. He's seen something suspicious flying over London. As Sherlock and Watson contemplate the validity of Calvin's story, a flurry of henchmen pile into 221b Barker Street, followed by her Majesty the Queen. They too are deeply concerned about an 'Unidentified Flying Object', but luckily Calvin found a clue on the way to Barker Street. As Sherlock runs outside to sniff around, a sleigh from the North Pole arrives along with the Head Elf; Santa is missing with only hours until Christmas! Sherlock, Watson and Calvin take Santa's back-up sleigh to the North Pole to look for clues. They find a letter from Santa Claus claiming he's tired of the cold and a map that leads straight to the crown jewels. Could Santa really be planning to steal the crown jewels? Or is it the masterplan of Sherlock's arch nemesis, Moriarty? Sherlock Hound, his trusty side-kick Watson and Calvin, must race against time to foil Moriarty's evil plan, find Santa Claus and save Christmas for all.

Vicki Brown
info@altitudefilm.com
Market Office: 1C-F24 UK Film Centre
Home Office tel: +44 20 7478 7612

Synopsis: With over 200 million album sales worldwide, and remaining the only artist to chart seven consecutive US No. 1's, Whitney Houston was the voice of a generation. Coming from an esteemed lineage of singers, Whitney was destined to be plucked from her gospel-singing roots to rule the world stage. She inspired a generation of singers from Mariah Carey to Beyoncé and her unforgettable performance of The Star-Spangled Banner unlocked an anthem that had for so long been dismissed by many black artists. But all these achievements have become a footnote to a story of addiction and self-destruction. With salacious stories filling the columns of tabloid papers and magazines, Whitney had the voice of an angel onstage, but was being torn apart by her demons offstage. Directed by Academy Award-winning filmmaker Kevin Macdonald (Marley, Touching the Void) and from two-time Academy Award-winning producer Simon Chinn (Man on Wire, Searching for Sugar Man), the film will for the first time, give audiences an unprecedented and unique look into Whitney's life. This will be an unflinching and honest portrait of a rare talent told by those closest to her. Made with full access to her family and collaborators, the film will showcase exclusive audio and never-before-seen video archive from her time as a recording artist and performer. By casting her story and her work in a new and revealing light, WHITNEY HOUSTON will reassess the life and legacy of one of music's biggest stars.
