Synopsis: Roald Dahl was the man who came up with Willy Wonka and Oompa Loompa's; the BFG; Matilda's telekinesis; Mr. Fox's larcenous ways; Mr. & Mrs. Twit and the Grand High Witch. The Worl's greatest storyteller but perhaps, more surprisingly, this is also a story about Patricia Neal; "the new Garbo"; one of the finest actors of her generation. Two people who came out of a tunnel of grief over the death of a child; one with a classic book in their hand; the other with an Oscar. Both, in different ways, inspired to greater creativity by a great tragedy.

Genre: Drama

Director: Julien Landais

Status: Completed

Synopsis: Set in Venice in the late 19th century, it tells of an American editor determined to get his hands on the letters his icon, the Romantic poet Jeffrey Aspern, wrote to his beautiful lover and muse, Juliana Bordereau. Juliana lives in a Venetian palazzo with her niece Miss Tina, who she seems to control and Morton tries to manipulate. But when the ambitious adventurer trifles with Miss Tina's affections she learns to see through his scheme. The Aspern Papers tells a story of obsession, grandeur lost and dreams of Byronic adventures. The film was shot where Henry James actually wrote it - on original locations in Venice. From script stage on, French director Julien Landais was supported by Executive Producer and recent Academy Award winner James Ivory.

Astral

Cast: Frank Dillane, Vanessa Grasse, Damson Idris
Genre: Horror
Director: Chris Mul
Status: Completed

Synopsis: As a student of metaphysics, Alex discovers the practice of astral projection and the scientific possibility of a dimension outside our own. Coming to terms with the premature death of his mother during his childhood, Alex turns to astral projection in an attempt to reconnect with her. As his experiments escalate, Alex continues to isolate himself from those who care for him. With every trip into the unknown, Alex's mental state declines further, as it becomes apparent that someone... or rather something has been crossing over with him. In the tradition of It Follows and The Babadook comes an event level, elevated paranormal Thriller that redefines the genre for a new generation. Featuring an all-star cast including Frank Dillane (star of AMC's Fear the Walking Dead), Vanessa Grasse (starring alongside Stephen Dorff in the 2017 Texas Chainsaw Massacre franchise reboot Leatherface) and Damson Idris (star of John Singleton's Snowfall).

Avengement

Cast: Scott Adkins, Craig Fairbrass, Nick Moran
Genre: Action/Adventure
Director: Jesse V. Johnson
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: While released on furlough from prison, a lowly criminal evades his guards and returns to his old haunts to take revenge on the people that made him a cold-hearted killer. It's an epic, bloody battle to search for the soul he lost years ago on the streets of an unforgiving city.

Reuniting actor Scott Adkins and writer/director Jesse V. Johnson ("The Debt Collector," "Savage Dog"), this is a unique take on the classic gangster film. Violent, stylish and unfolding in a non-linear fashion, the film boldly harkens back to its cinematic forebears: "GoodFellas," "Pulp Fiction" and "Chopper."

The Banishing

Genre: Horror
Director: Chris Smith
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: 1936, Borley village, England. Lionel, his wife Marianne, and their daughter Adelaide move into town, where Lionel has been posted as the new reverend. He's been tasked by the Church to renew the villagers' faith, which has been lost after the disturbing, unexplained deaths of the previous reverend's family — at the very same mysterious manor where Lionel and his family have settled into. Soon after their arrival, strange events start to occur: ghostly voices, menacing ravens, mysterious wooden totems, and a bruise on Adelaide's leg that grows larger and darker by the day. It soon becomes clear that a malicious entity seeks to possess Adelaide and that the Church and the villagers of Borley are hiding a terrible secret...

As the menacing spirit grows stronger, Lionel and Marianne have to confront their beliefs and enlist the help of Harry Price, a famous occultist who's battled the evil spirit once before. Together, they must uncover the terrifying truth about their house and the paranormal force which inhabits it... and hope it isn't already too late for Adelaide.

Bare Knuckle

Cast: Cody McKenzie, Melvin Guillard, Jimmy Sweeney, Nathan Leeson, Billy Hawthorn
Genre: Documentary
Director: Duncan Napier-Bell
Status: Completed

Synopsis: Despite being centuries old, the sport of bare-knuckle fighting is one that's always sat firmly in the shadow of its gloved alternative. Previously shunned to car parks, barns and the darkest nooks of the UK, these boxers, rather than dreaming of status or financial rewards, are there purely for the fight itself, united by a fierce subculture of honour, pride and violence. Although remaining far removed from the glitz and glamour of pro-boxing, the underworld fighting scene has recently enjoyed a huge surge of mainstream attention, with many pro-boxers from around the world supporting the renaissance. Selling out its first national arena booking last year, this divisive, and highly stereo-typed sport has finally experienced a meteoric shift in favour, moving from the underground to a prime-time TV sport. Featuring an impressive range of professional fighters, including UFC fighters and stars of reality show "The Ultimate Fighter", Cody McKenzie and Melvin Guillard.

Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townsfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries. Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Hardborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town.

Synopsis: For 300 years, Sir Simon Canterville has been haunting his ancestral home, Canterville Chase, and loving it! But everything changes when an American family buys the estate and moves in. The family is unimpressed with Sir Simon's ghostly antics and does not find him scary at all... they actually find him to be a bit of a nuisance. It is not long before the family's young twin boys are scaring him out of his wits, chasing him through the corridors of Canterville, exhausting and weakening his spirit. Sir Simon becomes discouraged and crestfallen from the boys' pranks, but becomes hopeful when accompanied by the family's teenage daughter to embark on the journey to find what caused his 300 year-old curse. Sir Simon travels with Virginia through his past and into a magical garden where he comes face-to-face with his nemesis, the Grim Reaper, who challenges him to Sir Simon in a duel to release him from the curse. But if Sir Simon loses, he and Virginia will be trapped in the garden for all eternity. The Canterville Ghost is a warm-hearted adaptation of the literary classic tale, a love-story and a comedy with a spooky edge, a "very animated Oscar Wilde".

Genre: Science-fiction
Director: Harry Lindley
Status: Completed

Synopsis: Christian and her boyfriend Dru are heading to the luxurious loft of Lex's brother Leo, a reclusive computer programmer, for his birthday masquerade party. At the party, Leo hands out USB drives labeled "DAISY" as party favors to fellow hackers. In fact, DAISY is an artificial intelligence — originally created by Leo as his opponent of chess games; however it has the ability to evolve and adapt, enhanced with predatory tendency to "sacrifice the weak" to yield efficiency in order to win at all costs. When the computer virus is unleashed, Daisy locks the apartment's security door and cut off all cell receptions. Leo, Lex, and Dru find themselves trapped together in the building while Daisy starts aggressively creating her own imitations of life and even manifesting new creatures for this new Paradise. The virus, evolving rapidly, takes many forms, and gets everywhere — in the air, in the water, and under the skin. Upon a little digital signal, Lex tries to call for help, only to find an apocalyptic outside world because the virus has been released everywhere through the party guests.

Synopsis: Herb's life is a mess. He's lost his welfare, can't hold a job, can't talk to his son, has a neighbour who won't shut up and a diet that consists mainly of cheap beer and mushy peas. It's no way to live and he knows it.

Then he learns from a TV news report that Danish prisoners have it way better than he does: a job, accessible healthcare, the quiet of the countryside, even an HDTV. They're practically living in hotels.

He says goodbye (and good riddance) to his dingy flat and smuggles himself to Denmark aboard a cargo ship, landing in a quaint town with everything he needs -- including a bank to rob. But when he meets a friendly local barmaid and a lovable stray dog that won't leave his side, he begins to wonder if prison really is his only chance of a fulfilling life.

Gareth Jones

Cast: James Norton, Vanessa Kirby, Peter Sarsgaard

Genre: Drama

Director: Agnieszka Holland

Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: 1933. Gareth Jones is a young ambitious Welsh journalist who gained fame after writing about meeting Hitler, and is now looking for his next big story. The Soviet "utopia" is all over the news, and he can't help but wonder how Stalin is financing the rapid modernisation of the Soviet Union.

He decides to travel to Moscow in an attempt to get an interview with Stalin himself. There he meets Ada Brooks, a British journalist who reveals that the true story about the regime is being violently repressed. Hearing murmurs of government-induced famine, a secret carefully kept by the Soviet censors, Gareth manages to elude the authorities and travels clandestinely to Ukraine, where he witnesses the atrocities of man-made starvations – millions left to starve – as all grain is sold abroad to finance the industrialising Soviet empire.

Back in London, Gareth publishes an article revealing the horrors he witnessed. But the starvations are quickly denied by Western journalists living in Moscow, all under pressure from the Kremlin. As death threats mount, Gareth has to fight for the truth. He meets a young author, a man by the name of George Orwell, who he shares his findings with...influencing the great allegorical novel Animal Farm.

Synopsis: Underpinned by full access to the band members and their candid testimonies, a wealth of personal and public archive, and an evocative soundtrack, this is a film which takes us to the heart of the 80s New Wave music scene and the intriguing world which existed between punk and pop – a blurred line between light and shade which The Go-Go's and its members embodied.

Book-ended by a forthcoming series of reunion gigs marking 40 years in the business, this feature documentary unpacks the complexities of a group whose upbeat, kitsch sound belied the dark realities of what was happening off stage; a contradiction which mirrored the chaotic lives of the individual band members.

Genre: Family
Director: Bhavna Talwar
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Inspired by the classic, beloved story "Heidi", this new reimagining of the titular character comes to life in this big budget, English language motion picture. Heidi is an adventurous and clever 15 year old girl who lives with her Grandpa in a small wood cabin high up in the mountains in the sleepy village of Dorfli. She doesn't have many possessions but what she does have are her pet goat Snowflake, her best friend Peter, and her love of nature. When it's discovered that Heidi has been skipping school, she is forced to leave her beloved world behind. She is sent to the city where she will live in the home of a wealthy professor in order to "make something" of herself. A stranger to her new surroundings, Heidi finds it difficult to adjust until she befriends Clara, the wheelchair bound daughter of the Professor. But things aren't what they seem as Heidi suspects Miss Rottenmeier, the governess of the house, is hiding a dark and dangerous secret. It is up to Heidi to save the day so she can be reunited with the people and animals she loves so dearly.

Synopsis: "Would you please stop sitting around in your pyjamas, eating toast & singeing your legs by the gas fire. Fuck it - form a band!" (Ruth Pendragon, Mother & Manager) The band performed ticketed live shows for their mother's kindly and chaotic group of friends, part of the ramshackle 'Cambridge fringe element': the homeless, drunks, animal rights activists, junkies, cross-dressers and a pair of gay Franciscan Friars. Their DIY approach & domestic sound still resonates with semi-ironic naive charm, echoing The Shaggs, or Daniel Johnston. The Hippies star shone briefly, before breaking up due to musical differences and possibly an argument over crisps. Interwoven with this, the film explores the band's mother and manager, Ruth Pendragon. Maverick, Mystic, Punk, Ruth will play a pivotal role in the bigger picture, offering an insight into a time of personal and social upheaval, both at home and in the Britain of 1979. Another key figure is Matt's childhood toy, a now-decrepit Snoopy rag doll, who - dressed in a miniature, tailored Teddy Boy suit (styled on The Sex Pistols' Svengali manager Malcolm McLaren) will provoke and elicit honest reflection from the film's director and question his version of events. THE HIPPIES then and now. What truly happened back then and whose side of the story should be told, especially as the film's director is/was the band's ten year-old shoebox drummer? Using archive, music of the period and poetic re-imagining's of key episodes from the past. Working towards a live performance by the re-formed band and cover artistes, the film promises to be an energetic, jarring, comical musical ride through a part-remembered, kaleidoscopically fractured family history, with a visceral, direct, punchy, montaged DIY punk aesthetic.

Hurricane

Cast: Iwan Rheon, Milo Gibson, Stephanie Martini, Kristof Hadek, Marcin Dorocinski
Genre: Action/Adventure
Director: David Blair
Status: Completed

Synopsis: The story of the Polish fliers who found themselves fighting for the freedom of their own country in foreign skies. Seen through the eyes of Jan Zumbach, fighter ace and adventurer, it tells how the Poles, driven across Europe by the German war machine, finally made their last stand. Flying Hurricanes for the RAF over Britain, they became a key component in the legend of 'The Few'. Up against the might of the Luftwaffe they hoped that, by saving Great Britain from Nazi invasion, they were keeping the dream of a free Poland alive. In the lethal melee above England in that summer of 1940, they fought with a tenacity and skill that earned them the admiration of the whole British nation. The dogfights against superior planes cost some of the men their lives. The constant strain of gladiatorial combat took away the sanity of others. But, as Zumbach discovers as the war stutters to a close, becoming the best in the RAF is a hollow victory for the Poles. Hurricane shows how, even in a man's finest hour, cynical political manoeuvrings can destroy his hopes, strip away his dignity and lead him to a very dark place indeed.

Synopsis: Following a car crash Ron and Olga are bizarrely transported from their comfy world into an uncertain one -- from the safety of their living-room in England, into an alien world in North Africa and across Europe. Without money or documents and still in their pyjamas, they will need to put aside their mutual animosity and find a way back. Olga and her son Ron, both living in the portside town of Tilbury, manage to accidentally exile themselves from their own country over an argument about cheese. As if being stranded in Morocco without documents or money wasn't enough, they have to find a way to immigrate back home. With a relationship that is strained at the best of times, mother and son have to survive each other as well as a journey across the Mediterranean and European continent. As their absurd adventure unfolds, the two come face-to-face with their own insecurities. While the manipulative but uninhibited mother hides her vulnerabilities behind her crass and carefree manners, her juvenile son struggles between wanting his own independence and needing his mother's support.

Synopsis: Winter 1968 and showbiz legend Judy Garland arrives in Swinging London to perform in a sellout run at The Talk of the Town. It is 30 years since she shot to global stardom in THE WIZARD OF OZ, but if her voice has weakened, its dramatic intensity has only grown. As she prepares for the show, battles with management, charms musicians, and reminisces with friends and adoring fans, her wit and warmth shine through. Even her dreams of romance seem undimmed as she embarks on a courtship with Mickey Deans, her soon-to-be fifth husband. And yet Judy is fragile. After working for 45 of her 47 years, she is exhausted; haunted by memories of a childhood lost to Hollywood; gripped by a desire to be back home with her kids. Will she have the strength to go on? Featuring some of her best-known songs, including the timeless classic 'Over the Rainbow', JUDY celebrates the voice, the capacity for love and the sheer pizzazz of "the world's greatest entertainer".

Mrs. Lowry And Son

Cast: Timothy Spall, Vanessa Redgrave
Genre: Drama
Director: Adrian Noble
Status: Completed

Synopsis: An intimate portrayal of the relationship between one of greatest artists of the 20th century, L.S. Lowry (Spall) and his unhappy and controlling mother, Elizabeth (Redgrave). Artist L.S. Lowry lived all his life with his over-bearing mother. Bed-ridden and bitter, she actively tried to dissuade her bachelor son from pursuing his artistic ambitions, whilst never failing to voice her opinion at what a disappointment he was to her. Spending his days as a rent collector, Lowry took art classes in the evening and painted well into the early hours of the morning. The film follows Lowry in the beginnings of his career as he yearns to transition into having his work appreciated in London and beyond. It becomes clear his disdainful mother is the ultimate obstacle to his success, not his lack of talent. However, Elizabeth is the very reason Lowry paints anything at all, as he desperately seeks to create something, anything, which will make her happy.

The Necromancer

Cast: Stuart Brennan, Marcus Macleod, Mark Paul Wake
Genre: Action/Adventure
Director: Stuart Brennan
Status: Completed

Synopsis: After a furious and violent battle, Logan (BAFTA winner Stuart Brennan) and his surviving friends, decide to follow their captain Bernard and escape from the imminent battle at Waterloo. Fearing Napoleon is about to win, they flee to Germany, before planning to head North to the coast. A short cut through the notorious Black Forest is suggested, but upon arrival and the appearance of an injured soldier, all is not as it seems. The deeper into the forest they go, the further their thoughts wander, until reality and fantasy collide and they meet the evil that waits for them.

Have you ever thought, what might happen if you eat your own words? Words written on rocks? What if the screams of the dead, filled your head? Make your best friend not see another thing? War is a horror that can't be unseen, it may even break a mans soul. "The Necromancer" is a dark tale in the vein of Pan's Labyrinth, set against the backdrop of the Napoleonic War, where danger lurks around every corner.

Synopsis: "I was a shadow in a man's world. Invisible...but in the end, powerful."

In a picturesque village in England, Joan Stanley (Academy Award® winner Dame Judi Dench), lives in contented retirement. Then suddenly her tranquil existence is shattered as she's shockingly arrested by MI5. For Joan has been hiding an incredible past; she is one of the most influential spies in living history... Cambridge University in the 1930s, and the young Joan (Sophie Cookson), a demure physics student, falls intensely in love with a seductively attractive Russian saboteur, Leo. Through him, she begins to see that the world is on a knife-edge and perhaps must be saved from itself in the race to military supremacy. Post-war and now working at a top secret nuclear research facility, Joan is confronted with the impossible: Would you betray your country and your loved ones, if it meant saving them? What price would you pay for peace? Inspired by an extraordinary true story, Red Joan is the taut and emotional discovery of one woman's sacrifice in the face of incredible circumstances. A woman to whom we perhaps all owe our freedom.

Synopsis: German soldier Bernd Trautmann is taken prisoner in England towards the end of WWII. During a football match between the prisoners, the goalkeeper is noticed by Jack Friar, manager of an amateur club. Forced upon the team, Trautmann soon surprises on and off the field. Prejudice subsides, friendships start to develop and Trautmann loses his heart not only to football but to his manager's beautiful daughter Margaret. However, Trautmann could not have foreseen the wave of outrage resulting from his engagement at Man City FC. Thousands take to the streets against the signing of the "Nazi." Feeling alienated and alone, Trautmann's and Margaret's loyalty to each other is being seriously put to the test. But they receive support from an unexpected direction: Rabbi Alexander Altmann, who fled the Nazis, publishes an open letter against the anti-German slogans. Trautmann's path to acceptance begins and peaks at the 1956 FA Cup Final when he secures victory for Man City by playing on despite a broken neck. Yet fate twists the knife and Trautmann's son is killed in a car accident. Heartbroken, Trautmann wants to give up. But a whole nation has learned to accept him, and so he starts to prepare for his comeback. For all those who learned to forgive, for those who had lost someone and most of all for his son, who admired him the most, he must step back onto the pitch.

Synopsis: Director Ralph Fiennes captures the raw physicality and brilliance of Rudolf Nureyev, whose escape to the West stunned the world at the height of the Cold War. Nureyev is played by world-class ballet performer Oleg Ivenko. With his magnetic presence, Nureyev emerged as ballet's most famous star, a wild and beautiful dancer limited by the world of 1950s Leningrad. His flirtation with Western artists and ideas led him into a high-stakes game of cat and mouse with the KGB. David Hare's drum-tight script offers a thrilling insight into his dangerous defection, masterminded by the dancer's great friend, 21-year-old Parisian Clara Saint (Exarchopoulos). In an astonishing finale at Le Bourget airport in Paris, THE WHITE CROW leaps to freedom, and in so doing defines his destiny.

Synopsis: The Romans are at war with the Picts. Hadrian's Wall is the last outpost of the Roman frontier and a small group of male and female soldiers have left the safety of it to travel North, into Pict territory, searching for four missing men. As winter threatens and no sign of the men, the group prepare to turn home, when they encounter a beast that is hunting them. With their lives in danger the Romans must either face the beast or turn and run. But can the hunted become the hunters, or will snow and fatigue plague their journey home? The leader of the Romans admits to knowing there was a sickness that plagued the Pict lands and that the missing men, may well be the very beasts hunting them. Grackus (BAFTA winner Stuart Brennan) has been injured from their first encounter with the beasts and is starting to behave strangely. If it is the sickness, their journey home has just got a lot more difficult... "Wolf" is a fast paced action thriller, where no man or woman can be trusted and the beast that hunts them, will not stop until it is dead. Or you are.

Synopsis: Charlie is a Zoo-Head, addicted to a powerful hallucinogenic with memory crunching side-effects. However, he's forced by the authorities to enter a radically experimental rehabilitation treatment which is supposed to recover his memories and put his mind back together as it was prior to his addiction. However, the system crashes and Charlie becomes trapped in a series of horrifying 'memory loops'. Haunted by childhood traumas, Charlie's psyche repeatedly shuts down in defence, only to reboot with increasingly disturbing recurrences. In desperation at his suffering, his girlfriend reveals the true depth of her feelings for him which causes Charlie to realise he does have something precious to live for. But, it may be too late, the twists and turns of his visions intensify, potentially destroying his mind for good. That is unless the desperate efforts to save him can succeed.
